2 Dozen Heavily Populated Suburbs in Path of Storms

BY GALE TOLLIN

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — A string of tornadoes spewed death and destruction over this heavily populated area of Minnesota Thursday night, killing at least 13 persons, injuring more than 300 and causing millions of dollars in property damage. More than two dozen suburbs lay in the path of the winds over sections to the southwest, west and north of Minneapolis during the supper hour. Heavy rain and two-inch hailstones preceded the twisters.

Utility lines were flattened, in many sections dangerously crossing highways lined with homeward bound workers. Dozens of homes were destroyed, and many were damaged.

Tornadoes Hit In Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — Tornadoes hit rural areas of western Oklahoma Thursday night, killing a teen-age girl and injuring at least four other persons.

Several farm buildings were damaged during the night of violent storms that also brought crop-damaging hail and rainfall up to three inches.

Authorities said Patsy Caudell, 16, of Sentinel was killed and two teen-age companions were injured, one seriously when a tornado picked up a car which they occupied.

Several farm buildings south of Sentinel were destroyed or heavily damaged.

Hundreds of homes were damaged and many were destroyed.

Nelson Dissents

Haste Charged in War Fund Okay

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Gaylord A. Nelson, D-Wis., one of three members to vote against President Johnson's $700 million Viet Nam war fund bill as it passed the Senate Thursday, decried the move as an act of "unseemly haste."

"We are stumbling over each other to see who can say 'Aye' the quickest and the loudest," he told his colleagues who passed the measure. "Obviously, you need my vote less than I need my conscience," he said.

The former Wisconsin governor said of the President's requested confidence vote, "We all know that our military planning is not so faulty that we need this appropriation right now. If it were required today, our very able Secretary of Defense would have urged action some time ago."

Sen. Nelson argued, "In this situation there is one danger which I believe to be profound. It is the danger that men of impatience, fear and blindness will try to urge, demand and threaten until there is no escape from a major land war in Asia or a

Johnson Signs War Fund Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson signed today a special $700-million appropriation to finance the war in Viet Nam and said it was a message of American determination to resist aggression in Southeast Asia.

Johnson signed the bill in the East Room of the White House just three days after he asked thermonuclear war of global scale.

Sens. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., and Ernest Gruening, D-Alaska, also voted against the measure.

Sens. Nelson and William Proxmire, D-Wis., both voted with the majority Thursday as the Senate rejected 64-25 an amendment offered by a North Carolina senator to remove the mechanism for the voting rights bill to take effect.

Part of GOP Backs Rewrite Of Constitution

Predict Attempt
At Resolution in Republican Conclave

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — An attempt will be made to put the Republican state organization on record at its La Crosse convention Saturday in support of proposals for the summoning of a state constitutional convention for the rewriting of the 1848 state constitution, capitol sources reported today.

Leading spokesmen of the Republicans in the state legislature are expected to oppose the proposal if it reaches the convention floor.

Thus far the idea of a convention to remodel wholly the state constitution in preference to the separate amendment process has had significant support only from Democrats, among the professional politicians of the state, although it has evoked some favorable response from non-party sources in Milwaukee and elsewhere.

Pending Resolution

A pending resolution in the legislature proposing such a convention bears the names of Democratic authors.

As matters now stand, it is unlikely that the resolution will gather enough votes in the Republican-controlled Senate to win approval, although it is possible that the well-disciplined Democratic bloc in control of the Assembly can put it through the lower house.

The issue of a convention as a substitute for individual amendments as a means of modernizing the constitution has had considerable attention during the last year, in part because of the deliberations of the constitutional revision advisory committee headed by Justice Thomas E. Fairchild of the state supreme court.

Kosygin Hits U. S. Policy In Viet Nam

BERLIN (AP) — Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin accused the United States today of violating elementary rules of international law and warned that Washington must sooner or later take into account that North Viet Nam has friends.

"Those who blindly support the policy of aggression of the United States, such as the government of England or the government of West Germany, are shouldering a great and far-reaching responsibility," he declared.

He was speaking at a ceremony in East Berlin commemorating the 20th anniversary of Adolf Hitler's defeat.

Jury Still Out In Civil Rights Murder Case

No Strain Shows
On Accused During
Fifth Day of Trial

HAYNEVILLE, Ala. (AP) — A deadlocked jury tried again today to reach a verdict in the murder trial of Collie Leroy Wilkins Jr., the Ku Klux Klan member charged with the highway killing of a civil rights worker from Detroit.

The 12 white men returned to their deliberations in a small room off the second-floor courtroom at 9 a.m. They spent four hours, and 20 minutes trying to decide on a verdict Thursday in the slaying of Viola Gregg Liuzzo, 39, mother of five.

White-haired T. Werth Thagard, the trial judge, stood relaxed, hands in pockets, to greet the jury. Then the jurors filed out quietly.

Wilkins, 21, of Fairfield, Ala., the man accused of firing the death shot, showed no sign of strain from the trial now in its fifth day. He walked casually around the courtroom, talking with his slender, gray-haired father. Then he strolled to the counsel table and took a seat.

Seabees Begin On New Airbase For Viet Nam

6,000 More U. S.
Troops Landed
Without Incident

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A flotilla of landing craft brought 3,000 U.S. marines and 3,000 Seabees ashore today at Chu Lai, 52 miles south of the big Da Nang air base. The Leathernecks will guard a combat airfield which the Seabees will construct.

There was no contact with the Viet Cong during the landing, but far to the South the Communist guerrillas staged a savage attack on a Roman Catholic town, inflicting 105 casualties.

U.S. officials in Saigon reported three raids by 10 U.S. Navy planes Thursday over North Viet Nam. The sorties were aimed at railroad traffic, ferry boats, bridges and trucks.

Good Results

Pilots reported good results, but specific details were not given. All planes returned to their carriers, officials said.

The Marines and Seabees landed at Chu Lai in perfect weather, and the Seabees went to work at once building a 4,000-foot airstrip to be used for operations in central Viet Nam. Intelligence sources have said a North Vietnamese regiment is operating in the foothills and mountains to the west of Chu Lai.

After construction is completed, the Marines will move out into the area, seeking out the Viet Cong on missions similar to those being undertaken in the other U.S. Marine areas of Da Nang and Phu Bai, to the north of Chu Lai.

The big new landing, plus the increased American involvement elsewhere in Viet Nam, is behind the request which President Johnson made of Congress for an extra $700 million. Congress approved the request Thursday.

The landing brings the total number of U.S. servicemen in South Viet Nam to about 45,000.

Six battalions of Vietnamese soldiers had been operating in the Chu Lai area for the past two days, clearing out the Viet Cong. Eight guerrillas were killed and 13 captured. Two Vietnamese troops were killed and six wounded in the clearing operations.

Landing of all the Marine tanks and other equipment was expected to take another three days.

The attack Thursday night by about 1,000 Viet Cong on the town of Hai Yan, populated largely with Roman Catholic refugees from North Viet Nam, was the heaviest in the southern Mekong River delta in many months.

The Communist attack began

Morgenthau Hits U. S. Policy Abroad as Being Outmoded

University of Chicago Expert

Speaks at IPC Executives' Meeting

BY DICK LYNES
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

American foreign policy planners were accused Thursday night of using outmoded methods in dealing with problems of the modern world. Dr. Hans J. Morgenthau, professor of political science and modern history and director of the Center for Study of American Foreign and Military Policy at the University of Chicago, made the charge at the main banquet of the 29th annual Executives' Conference of the Institute of Paper Chemistry. The event was held at North Shore Golf Club.

"Present American foreign policy," Morgenthau said, "is in a state of real, profound crisis. It's not a crisis caused by deficiencies or mistakes," he said, "but a crisis which goes to the foundations of our foreign policy."

"We are applying the 1947 policy of containment" against communism, Morgenthau said, "and using the principles of the Marshall Plan and the Truman Doctrine. These policies were appropriate in 1947, but the world has radically changed."

He was strongly critical of President Johnson's policy in Southeast Asia, particularly in Viet Nam.

"Great Mistake" "We are making a great mistake," he said, "by not playing communist powers against each other, and by linking the communism of the Viet Cong, the communism of North Viet Nam and the communism of China."

"China is a hereditary enemy

of Viet Nam. Ho Chi Minh (North Vietnamese president) hasn't the slightest desire of becoming a satellite of China."

"But," he said, "American foreign policy is unifying these two countries."

81 Jets Hit N. Viet Nam; 1 F105 Lost

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Eight-one U.S. Air Force jets attacked bridges and barracks in North Viet Nam today. One F105 fighter-bomber was downed in the sea by enemy guns, but the pilot was rescued by an Air Force amphibious plane.

The downed F105 was one of 25 bombers and 40 supporting fighters that attacked the Thanh Hoa highway and railroad bridge over the Song Ma River, 80 miles south of Hanoi.

This was the third time American planes had attacked the bridge.

Later, 16 other F105s, escorted by the same 40 fighters, staged an armed reconnaissance raid along North Vietnamese routes 1, 8, 12, 15 and 82 about 90 miles south of Hanoi.

Pilots reported seeing no traffic over the roads. Instead, they attacked two small bridges and three barracks, all of which were reported damaged. All planes on the second raid returned safely despite enemy groundfire.

No enemy aircraft were sighted.

Ike Recalls End of World War II

Rededication to Mankind Advocated

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP) — Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, on the 20th anniversary of World War II victory in Europe, called upon mankind today to rededicate itself to the advancement of humanity rather than its destruction.

The five-star general who led the invasion that brought an end to European hostilities, and later served his country as president through eight years of relative peace, issued an anniversary statement from his farm home near Gettysburg.

Eisenhower's comments came on the eve of the actual cessation of hostilities in 1945.

The former president's statement said:

"May 8, 1945, saw the end in Europe of the devastating war that had begun in the late summer of 1939, and involved practically the whole of the European area."

"With Hitler and his cruel practices swept away, the victory on V-E Day inspired new hopes in weary and terror-stricken populations for some assurance that governments would find a way to eliminate the possibility of future war."

"In an effort to give realization to these hopes, a number of governments cooperated in the founding of the United Nations organization and for a time there seemed to grow and flourish a promise of an enduring and just peace."

"But soon disappointments ensued; mankind again began to experience the uneasiness and tensions that always accompany every threat to general peace."

"On this 20th anniversary of V-E Day, it would seem that all of us — every private citizen and governmental official throughout the world — should unite in renewing our faith and reinforcing our determination that the intellect of man will concern itself more with humanity's advancement than its destruction."

"If all the powerful nations of the world could, with real confidence in each other, forego the production and maintenance of the frightful weapons of war, and devote their attention to betterment of their respective populations, then happiness would soon supplant poverty and menace would replace fear and tension everywhere."

"Though such idealistic purposes will not soon be realized, it is certain that V-E Day is a fitting occasion on which to resolve, anew, that these goals will never be lost to our sight."

Your Problems

Fat Aunt's Sit-Down Hurt Nephew and His Ukelele

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: I have an aunt who is very fat. She is also very rich. Her husband owns half the lumber in North Carolina. This fat aunt came to visit us a few days ago. I know it was a dumb thing to do but I accidentally left my ukelele on a chair in the living room. Well, this fat aunt goes and sits right down on my ukelele and smashes it in a hundred pieces.

She didn't say one word about buying me a new ukelele. All she could talk about was how kids today don't take care of their things and how the sound of that collapsing ukelele almost gave her heart failure.

I think it was mighty cheap of my aunt not to offer to buy me a new ukelele. She could buy me a whole store full of ukes and not miss the money.

Please tell me what you think about this, and if you can help me in any way I would appreciate it a whole lot. — Former owner of a ukelele

[These things cannot be learned on a vacation.

Where did you get that piece of advice, Ann? Out of a travel brochure? You sound as dumb as the girls who wrote I call it the crippled leading the blind — Free And Happy

Dear Free: You sound like such a sweet, adorable guy I can't understand why you are still single. Maybe it's because the women in your home town all know you. Why don't you take a vacation, Bub?

DEAR ANN LANDERS: We have known this couple for several years. They are the kind who are so lovey-dovey on Monday you could throw up. On Tuesday you hear that "Lovey" gave "Dovey" a black eye and that she has moved in with her mother.

Now that you have the background, here is the question: This couple has a habit of lighting cigarets for each other. For example, she lights two cigarets at one time, placing both cigarets between her lips. She then takes one cigaret and places it between his lips. I'm sure they think this creates the image of "togetherness." To me

I am a bachelor 50 years of age. The idea that any girl (alone or with friends) could snag a husband while on a vacation is insane. Any man who has the brains he was born with knows he can't tell anything about a woman unless he sees her in her home environment. I am a bachelor 50 years of age. Dill Dressing

If you are using dill in a salad, let the herb soak in the salad dressing before adding it to the other ingredients. This dousing of the dill helps develop its flavor.

Questions, Answers

Q. Will you please tell me how to make thread loops that you see on blouses, and at the top of a back zipper where the hook attaches? Mrs. M.T.

A. Sew three or four strands of thread on edge of fabric. Work over these strands, using measurements border on being oversized for evening. For mat-inees, these are fine

Q. I saw a dress I fell in love with but it is a size too large. I bought it anyway and now don't know how to start alterations. Can you help? Miss M.M.

A. If I were you, I would start by changing my buying habits. Never buy a dress that cannot be easily altered in size seams or darts. Without seeing the dress on you, I can't say whether or not the sleeves would come out and be reset, the collar or neckline altered the waistline length changed, etc. If possible, go to your local tailor and ask him if he would pin it on you and advise you as to whether or not it can be fixed successfully. Q. Is a small purse (not an evening bag) considered in good taste for the theater, or is a purse of regular size (not a real big one) all right? Mrs. E.McG.

A. That depends on what you consider real big. A theater purse, whether silk or leather, should never be large or bulky. It need not be a tiny clutch, but should never be larger than a 7-inch square, for instance, and if long and slim, not longer than about 10 inches. Even these

Q. Take the skirt pattern of a suit or dress you like. Lay it out on the new skirt, being sure to match your grain lines, and simply recut it. You'll probably find that the bottom of the skirt will remain the same, but that much excess fabric will be chopped off the sides from waist to hip. Then mark your darts and go on from there.

Q. A close blanket stitch, pushing eye end of needle forward (The needle is used backward.) Do this until all parts of thread strands are covered. (See illustration)

For spring I made a suit. It is a bulky bright-colored tweed with a great deal of shirring around the waist and narrow skirt. I look absolutely horrible in it! I tried letting out the waist gathers and substituting darts instead, but it is so full that the darts are huge and too long. What can I do to remodel or recut it? Miss B.J.

Young Couple Learns You Cannot Live on Love Alone

BY MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management
Dear Miss Feeley:

I would like your advice on my forthcoming marriage. I am 19 years old and my boy friend is 22 years old. People have advised us against marriage due to the fact that we will have to support his two children by a previous marriage, in addition to our other expenses.

I take home $46 a week, and he takes home $80 a week. Our expenses will be:

Support for his two children, $40 a week; loan payment (for 3 years) $15 a week; car payment (for 2 years) $16 a week.

We will have to run two cars, as both of us will have to work. Also, there is an insurance policy premium for the two cars of $280 a year.

Would you please tell us what it will cost us for our normal living expenses—food, rent, clothes, etc.?

J. W., Patchogue, N. Y.

Dear J. W.:

I'll tell you, sure. It will cost about $76 more each month than the two of you will have. I want you both to take a good look at the figures I'm putting down.

Here so you won't walk into a situation blindfolded.

Believe me when I say that I think the nicest fate that can befall two people in love is the marriage. It's because I feel this way that I would hate to have you take on problems at the very beginning that could turn a pair of nice loving young people into antagonists.

And while the problems appear to be entirely money problems, not all of them are. For example, if you, as a wife, have to put up $40 every week, week in and week out, for the support of two children who are not your own, whom you probably rarely if ever see, is it possible that you won't become resentful?

After all, you take home $46 a week. So the day may come when you begin to feel you're working only to support some other woman's children.

Also, you will have some obligations that will continue over a period of three years. This isn't such a long time when you are older and more resigned to self-discipline and watching your budget. But at your ages it may seem like a heavy burden.

Now we get down to some figures you could expect to face on a monthly budget: Rent, $55; household operating costs, $20; food, $75; clothing, $25; personal allowances of both of you, $43; medical costs, $15; miscellaneous, church, contributions, etc., $15; car operating and insurance (and this is a low estimate for operating two cars), $65. Total, $313 a month.

Now keep in mind that, aside from the above living expenses, you have $71 worth of fixed expenses per week! According to what you tell me, there's the $40 a week for child support; $15 a week for loan payment; $16 a week for car payment.

So there you are. $76.50 short every month.

It's awfully hard to tell a girl of 19 to postpone marriage until there's a fair chance for its success, but the figures show the odds are against you. I'm a pushover for romance, but I'm also realistic.

On this same subject, here's a letter with another point of view.

Dear Miss Feeley:

Young married couples have car and furniture bills to pay, as well as other bills like rent, gas, food, and so forth. Most of these couples are 19 and 20—and we older folks can't seem to get it through their heads that it can't be done.

They are the smart ones, and we parents are the dumb ones, when we tell the children the age to own your own home is at least 25 and older. They only have a small amount in the savings bank, if anything, and often the husband has only been working at a new job for a year.

We can't blame these young people for wanting to get married and set up their own households, but with the high cost of rents and living today they just get deeper into the hole and lose everything they have.

Please, could you put this in the paper some day, because these children can't be told otherwise.

"Worried Parents,"
Newark, N. J.

Dear W. P.:

Even though I definitely agree with you, the problem actually is how can we get young adults to learn from our years of practical experience. We can supply them with the practical information, hoping their better judgment comes forth, but they make the final decisions. For many the school of life is their teacher. When some of them have made a mistake or two they're ready to listen to advice. It's only then that they can hear it.

The Ailing House
Cleaning Stone on Fireplace

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN
Q We purchased a summer home with a stone fireplace. At one time the fireplace must have smoked and the stones in front are black and dirty-looking. The former owner either varnished or shellacked over this dirt or smoke. How can we remove this?

A If shellac was used this can be removed with denatured alcohol. If varnish, use a paste remover according to label directions. Or try scrubbing with a strong, hot solution of trisodium phosphate or washing soda (keep this away from painted surfaces, it will soften the paint), followed by thorough rinsing with clear water to remove all trace of the cleaning solution.

Q Can you supply some information on cleaning water stains off a varnished wood floor? I have heard that oxalic acid is good but have no idea how it is used for this purpose.

A National Oak Flooring Manufacturers Association suggests the following for removing stains caused by standing water: Rub spot with No. 00 steel wool and re-wax. If this fails, sand lightly with fine sandpaper. Clean spot and surrounding area with No. 1 steel wool and mineral spirits or a good floor cleaner. Let floor dry and apply matching finish feathering out into surrounding area. When thoroughly dry, wax.

An oxalic acid solution (one ounce to the quart of water) is used to remove stubborn dark spots. The oxalic acid solution is allowed to remain on the stained area for one hour, then rinsed off with clear water. If necessary, a second treatment is given. This is a bleaching agent and the treated area may have to be stained and refinished to match rest of floor surface.

I suggest writing to National Oak Flooring Manufacturers Association, 814 Strick Bldg., Memphis 3, Tenn., for a copy of their free leaflet "How to Keep Oak Floors Beautiful," giving detailed instructions on removing various stains, etc.

Employment Up Slightly for Appleton Area

Report Increase of 159 Jobs Compared
With 60 Days Ago

An increase of slightly more than 1 per cent in total employment was shown by the Appleton area's 58 reporting establishments during the last two months. Fred R. Gehrke, manager of the Wisconsin State Employment Service district office reported today.

The mid-March total of 13,721 is 159 higher than 60 days ago. Nonelectrical and electrical machinery manufacturers and textile products forms are largely responsible for the increase. Gains resulted from growing production schedules in these industries.

Losses were shown in construction due to project completion. Seasonal adjustments produced a decline in retail trade, although some recovery is expected within the next two months.

Expect More Gains

With the exception of government, most reporting establishments are expecting increases this month. Machinery, paper and textiles anticipate the largest gains. Retail trade outlets now under construction also will require additional workers when completed.

The resumption of outdoor work, coupled with expected pickup in production at manufacturing firms, should activate worker demand somewhat beyond normal replacement requirements, Gehrke said.

Demands for professional and skilled workers continue to exceed the available supply which can meet the specifications of current job openings. The demand for office workers far exceeds the available supply. Commitments for employment of 1965 high school graduates should help somewhat in equalizing the demand and the supply, Gehrke said.

Supply Down

Applications on file at the local WSES office during March were almost 40 per cent below the 1,900 reported for the same month a year ago. The current total includes registered applicants who are awaiting recall to their previous employment.

By percentage, close to 55 per cent of the registrants are grouped in the entry and unskilled classifications; 20 per cent in the skilled and semi-skilled groups, 70 per cent in service, 10 per cent in clerical and sales and about 5 per cent in the managerial and professional groups. Shortages are very acute in the skilled machine shop trades.

The current supply of experienced, full-time agricultural workers is adequate to meet current demands, Gehrke said. Food processing plants and growers contacted thus far do not anticipate worker shortages.

5 Persons Receive Minor Injuries in Two-Car Accident

Planners Agree Winnebago Pipeline Best for Appleton

Fox Valley Communities Won't Join in Lake Michigan Tapping

The City of Appleton can best solve its immediate water supply problem by installing a pipeline to Lake Winnebago since other Fox Valley municipalities are not prepared to join Appleton in a Lake Michigan pipeline system at the present time.

This was the consensus of members of the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission's technical advisory committee which met Thursday afternoon at the Home Mutual Building, Appleton.

The committee met to make recommendations on the Consoer, Townsend and Associates, Chicago, water feasibility survey prepared for the City of Appleton, but decided it was not ready to do so.

Cost Prohibitive It passed a resolution calling for the municipal engineers on the committee to further study the problem and submit their opinions and comments to the committee in two weeks. The committee will be consolidated including his wife, Anita, 33, children, Nancy, 5 weeks, Shirley, 8, Cindy, 7, and Donna, 3.

Although the committee did not make any recommendations, the members agreed that the cost of installing a pipeline to Lake Michigan would be prohibitive for the City of Appleton. The estimated cost of such an operation is approximately $12.7 million. A Lake Winnebago pipeline would cost approximately $2.4 million.

Walter Rasmussen, City of Appleton planning director, said the "biggest mistake the committee could make would be to recommend that one community go it alone" if Lake Michigan is the ultimate source.

Robert Poss, director of public works for the City of Menasha, and Wayne Bryan, director of public works for the City of Neenah, said their respective communities were not interested in participating in a Lake Michigan pipeline at the present time.

They both expressed satisfaction with their communities' Lake Winnebago water supply. Bryan said the quality of Lake Winnebago's raw water "has

Democrats Pick 38 Delegates

Outagamie Caucus Names Members to Two Conventions

Outagamie County Democrats, meeting Thursday night in the Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. building, named 38 delegates to district and state party conventions.

Delegates will attend the Eighth District caucus May 15 in Manitowoc and the state convention June 11 and 12 in Green Bay. According to the state Democratic Party constitution, county units are allowed one delegate for every 25 paid members.

Outagamie County's 38 delegates represent 551 dues-paying members, which is below the county quota of 1,078 members set by the state party headquarters.

Roland Holtz, Algoma, Eighth District Democratic vice chairman, appeared at the meeting Thursday night to inform the Outagamie group that he was opposed to Robert McCormick of Green Bay for the post of district chairman.

After the business session, the group had an open discussion on Wisconsin's beer drinking law and on United States involvement in the Vietnamese war.

U.S. Policy Critic Gives Novel Insights

Dr. Hans J. Morgenthau Says Four Types of Communism Exist; National Interests Now Prevail

BY DICK LYNEIS
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Novel insights into America's problems of relations with Communist nations were offered during a speech Thursday night and in an interview with Dr. Hans J. Morgenthau, director of the Center for Study of American Foreign and Military Policy of the University of Chicago.

Morgenthau was at North Shore Golf Club to speak at the main banquet of the 29th annual Institute of Paper Chemistry Executives' Conference.

The Communisms of Stalin and of Khrushchev are "radically different," he said, "and require radically different approaches."

National Interests Prevail

"A drastic change has come over the Communist world," Morgenthau said. "Communism used to be a unified, monolithic threat to the rest of the world. All Communisms were subservient to the Soviet Union."

"But today," he said, "the monolithic character has been replaced by national interests of individual Communist nations.

"There are today," he said, "at least four different types of Communism in how they affect the United States. There are the Communist governments subservient to the Soviet Union; Communisms subservient to China, governments subservient to neither, and those that struggle between the two like Rumania."

Morgenthau charged that "it is the height of folly for the United States to deal with these different communisms as though they still represented a monolithic front."

"The United States," he said, "should be manipulating differences of policy and causing rifts between these communist nations. We are not taking advantage of the theological dispute of what is involved in basic Leninism."

U. S. Policy "Grave Error"

During his talk Morgenthau expressed the view that the Johnson Administration policy of involvement in the South Vietnamese civil war and escalation of the fight by bombing North Viet Nam "is a grave error."

He said, "Once again, the United States is making the mistake of applying one constant communist policy against different communist powers."

Morgenthau cast doubts about U. S. State Department policy which loosely links the Viet Cong guerrillas fighting in South Viet Nam with the Ho Chi Minh communist government in North Viet Nam.

"We are making a mistake in linking the communisms of the Viet Cong, North Viet Nam and

Month-Old Infant Boy Dies of Suffocation

Michael P. Flaeger, month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald L. Flaeger, 4335 W. Capitol Drive, Appleton, died Thursday afternoon of suffocation from choking on vomitus, according to Outagamie County Coroner Bernard H. Kemps.

The Appleton Fire Department rescue squad attempted respiration in an effort to save the child's life shortly after he was pronounced dead at a hospital by a physician.

Service Station Tanks To be Checked for Leak

Appleton Fire Department Still Searching For Source of Gasoline in Sewer System

Three gasoline tanks buried beneath an Appleton service station will be inspected today to determine if they are leaking, sending countless gallons of gasoline through the mid-city sewer system.

The tanks under the Consolidated Service Station, 303 N. Appleton St., will be checked with pressure gauges by station officials and fire department authorities this afternoon.

Gasoline was noticed shortly after 12:30 p.m. Thursday in the basement of the Karras Restaurant, 207 N. Appleton St., where it had seeped through a concrete block wall.

Authorities checking several sewer openings nearby noticed gasoline running along the top of the water in the sewers. Fire companies were called and began flushing the sewers to run the gasoline off.

Sewer Outlet After six hours, firemen returned to their stations but were called back to the vicinity of the Arcade Tavern, 119 N. Appleton St. Three hours later, gasoline was noticed backing up in an inside sewer outlet in the tavern basement.

Firemen took an explosive reading in the basement and determined the gasoline explosive level was near the dangerous point. Flushing began again in the basement and along the street and was continued through the night and this morning.

Fire department inspectors said the Consolidated Service Station tanks have not definitely been established as the gasoline

Experts Trace Indian Culture in Fox Valley

Evidence Presented Of Settlement as Early as 700 B.C.

NEENAH - MENASHA - Proof that Indians lived in the Fox Valley area as early as 7000 B.C. and possibly earlier, the legend and recorded history of the last village of the Mascouten and life of the Menominee, Winnebago, Fox, Potawatomi, the Outagamie and the Sauk added intrigue and adventure at the Local History Seminar Thursday night at Menasha High School.

The final session will be 3:45 p.m., Thursday. Dr. C. W. Rowe, Lawrence University, Appleton, gave an archeological chronology of the Fox Valley emphasizing the Pre - Indian Culture for the 80 teachers from the Neenah-Menasha public, private and parochial schools, their supervisors, members of the Neenah Historical Society and the Menasha Historical Society.

After a buffet dinner provided for the teachers by the First National Bank and the Bank of Menasha, Menasha, and the First National Bank and the National Manufacturer's Bank, Neenah, Mrs. Mary Corry narrated pictures of early Menasha.

Silas Spengler, Menasha attorney and collector of Americana gave a colorful paper on the early Indians in the Fox Valley area and presented a collection of Indian Chief lithographs.

"The Fox Valley is a diminutive archeological picture of the Upper Great Lakes Province," Dr. Rowe explained. A 13,000 year history is written in the rocks, telling of the glacial period, its retreat, and the emergence period from the era of the mastodons to the abundant region which supported 100,000 Indians.

Gaps in Record

"While there are gaps in the archeological record, we know that the nomadic Paleo-Indians were here prior to 7000 B.C. They followed the Mastodon, leaving their weapons of chipped stone, bone and wood," Dr. Rowe said. "About 6000 to 4500 B.C. the Aqua-Plano Indians dwelled on the lake shores and left their mark on history in the fossil benches. The Borroeo Archaic, about 500 B.C., introduced some new Indian items, the adz, the axe and the gouge. It was about this time the Turkey Tail blades appeared, made from copper, and very different from the lanceolate blade 5000 years earlier."

"In the burial mounds we have found the Early Woodland Indian, who tempered metal and made pottery. About 800 to WASHINGTON, D.C. - Congressman John A. Race announced today that bids will be issued May 12 for the extension and remodeling of the Menasha post office. Race said that 15,150 square feet would be added to the post office through the extension of the basement and the first floor.

In addition to the extension, new lighting and ventilation has been authorized for the main building. The roof and floors of the present building will also be repaired.

The Sixth District Democrat said that the estimated cost for revamping the post office is $390,000.

Bids will be received by the post office department until June 9. Anyone desiring further information should contact Race at Washington.

Menasha Postmaster James Omachinski said he has not yet received formal notification of the taking of bids.

The expansion will be to the north and west of the present building. New loading docks will be facing First Street.

Mill Warns of Play Dangers Near Log Piles

KIMBERLY - In an effort to keep youngsters from being hurt by playing among log piles at the Kimberly-Clark Corporation mill, officials of that concern have sent home warning letters with all school children.

The letters point out to parents, the danger from switch trains constantly in the area and the falling logs or tipping log piles. They also warn, youngsters have been puncturing water barrels in the yard, which in event of fire could prove a serious threat to the loss of log piles and place homes in jeopardy as well as result in a plant shutdown.

Police have agreed to patrol more extensively in the yards and parents are asked to warn children to keep out of the area.

Enrollment for Swim Lessons Is Reported Large

KAUKAUNA - Swimming lesson registrations are filling rapidly and persons desiring to have youngsters attend specific class sessions are advised to sign with the recreation department as soon as possible, according to James Gertz, recreation director.

Early signers are given preference as to dates they wish to take instructions and late registrants will be assigned to fill out classes. Three sessions are planned, the first starting June 14, the second July 6 and the third July 26. Four class periods are held per day thus giving registrants the opportunity to sign for 12 different periods.

1800 A.D., the Lake Woodland Indians emerged and these are the early Indians who made effigy mounds, symbols of the guiding spirit of the deceased."

Tracing the advent of the French into this area from the landing of Jean Nicolet and the French voyageurs who followed and reported the Indians content, Silas Spengler used pungent bits of recorded history to give Indians from this area the credit due them. They tilled the soil, confined their fighting to each other, counseled and looked for help from the Great White Father in Washington. They were a people "who were honest without law," he said.

Braves Open 4-Game Stand Against Mets

Club Official Sees End of Boycott When Team Returns

NEW YORK (AP)—The Milwaukee Braves will open a four game stand against the New York Mets in good health to-night except for the possibility of crowd claustrophobia.

Lee Maye, the Braves' leading hitter who was hobbled by a sprained ankle for a week, is slated to start in center field. Rico Corti, sidelined by an ailing back, will also be ready for outfield duty.

The Braves, who drew only 2,404 fans in taking the last two games of a home stand from Houston, will be on the road until May 18. Milwaukee is in fourth place; the Mets, who have attracted throngs by their ingenuity in losing, are tied for last.

Lemaster to Start

Denny Lemaster, 1-2, will start for the Braves tonight against Jack Fisher, 0-3. Tony Cloninger was named to pitch Saturday and Bob Sawdowski, idled by a twisted knee, will return to action in Sunday's doubleheader. Wade Blasingame, 14-inning hero for the Braves against Houston, will hurl the other half.

The Braves trimmed their roster by the 25-man limit Thursday by deciding to cut Hank Aaron's younger brother, Tom.

Larry Hits First Homer in 11-Year Career in Majors

BY HAL BOCK

There is a force fancier in Boise, Idaho who had better start pretying up his pansies and tucking up his tulips. Larry Jackson is ready to collect on an 11-year-old promise.

Jackson, who won 24 games with two out in the ninth, Bob for the Chicago Cubs last season, was trotting out the first home run in his 11-year major league career Thursday when he thought about his friend back home in Boise.

"My good friend in Boise who promised me a $100 present if I ran their string to four victories ever hit a homer finally will have to pay off," Jackson mused after his two-run shot helped the Cubs to a 5-3 victory over Pittsburgh.

"He raises flowers, so I might take it out in a hundred bucks worth of poseys,"

The homer was one of three hits Jackson collected for a perfect day at the plate. It came off Pirate starter Don Cardwell.

"When I hit that Cardwell pitch, I knew it was gone,"

Yes, YOU probably missed it. Of the Fox Cities' 100,000-plus population, only 408 witnessed a near-perfect performance by Burlington pitcher Don Pierce at Goodland Field Thursday night.

Pierce, a 6-foot 2, 192-pound right-hander, strolled to the mound at 7:45 last night and, after 103 pitches, completed an ordinary night's work in an extremely extraordinary manner.

Yes, Pierce hurled Midwest League-leading Burlington to a captivating 4-0, no-hit victory over the Fox Cities Foxes on a perfect night for baseball.

The no-hitter was the 30th in the Midwest League since official records were inaugurated in 1949.

En route to the near-flawless showing, Pierce blazed third strikes past 10 Foxes' batsmen and walked only two. Oddly enough, Pierce wasn't the only no-hit pitcher of the night.

Burlington's Pierce Bears Resemblance to 'Gomer Pyle' of TV

Don Pierce, who's striking resemblance to Jim Nabors of Television's "Gomer Pyle, U.S.M.C." fame would indicate that he may have missed his beckoning as a stand-in, attained the pinnacle, of sorts, in his chosen profession at Goodland Field Thursday.

Pierce, who elected to pursue baseball on a play-for-pay basis, hurled the Midwest League's Burlington Bees to a 4-0, no-hit triumph over the Fox Cities Foxes last night.

The native of Griffin, Ga., needed just 103 pitches (61 strikes and 42 balls) to accomplish the feat. No stranger to the Midwest League, or to the Fox Cities for that matter, Pierce hurried for the Quincy Gems during the 1964 ML campaign.

The University of Georgia graduate (March 10) managed an unspectacular 6-12 mark with cellar-dwelling Quincy last season, but posted an earned-run average of 3.16 to rank 11th in the circuit.

Pierce made his debut (and only previous appearance) at Goodland Field on June 9. Tim Sommer was his mound opponent. Sommer proved to be the better that night, as he limited the Gems to one hit and escaped with a 2-1 decision over Pierce.

Thursday, however, Pierce was the master. He fanned 10 Foxes' batters and issued just two walks. Mike Gannon's fly to right field in the first inning was the only ball hit to an outfielder all night.

Elmira's Watt Hurls Second No-Hit Game

Former Foxes' Player Stops Reading, 5 to 0

ELMIRA, N.Y. (AP) — Ed Watt pitched his second no-hitter of the season Thursday night as the Elmira Pioneers shut out the Reading Indians 5-0 in an Eastern League game.

Watt, a right-hander from Iowa City, Iowa, struck out nine and walked two in Thursday night's game.

Watt hurled for the Fox Cities Foxes, of the Midwest League, in 1962, compiling a 11-11 mark with a mediocre club. Watt logged a 17-1 slate with Aberdeen and Elmira last season.

The Elmira manager is Earl Weaver, a 2-year pilot of the Fox Cities Foxes (1960-61).

Orioles Tip Twins As Robin Roberts Pitches 4-Hitter

Angels Extend Victory Streak To Four, Edge Athletics, 5-4

BY MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer
How long can Robin Roberts go on?
That just might depend on his supply of snake oil.
"I hear Satchel Paige found some snake oil in Venezuela he rubs on his arm to keep it young," Roberts said recently. "If I can find some, I just might pitch 'til I'm 56."
With 18 years to go, Roberts should have little difficulty reaching the 300 victory circle.
The 38-year-old Baltimore right hander stepped up to still another plateau Thursday when he posted the 275th victory of his 18 year career by subduing the Minnesota Twins 5-1 on four hits.
It was Roberts' fourth victory without a loss this season, lowered his earned run average to a sparkling 2.37 and revived the questioning about his chances of joining the select group of 14 pitchers who have won 300 or more major league games.
"Getting 25 more doesn't seem so big right now," Roberts said after he had handcuffed the Twins. "The way I'm going, it should come right now I'm not thinking too much about it. I imagine it will mean most after I'm through playing."
Then the modest pitcher who started out as a Whiz Kid with Philadelphia and eventually got the Orioles in 1962 after getting his release from the New York Yankees had an after thought about his climb up the victory ladder past some of the game's greats.
"I noticed it most when I went past Bob Feller and Red Ruffing on the all-time victory list.
"Some of those names mean something."
So does Robin Roberts.
He proved it again against the Twins, posting his fourth straight complete game victory as he joined another Yankee reject, Ralph Terry of Cleveland, as the leading winners in the American League with four victories.
Only one other game was Orioles, posted his fourth played in the AL, the Los Angeles Angels running their winning streak to four as Bobby Knop drove in four runs with a

Knights' Track Team to Face Vikes Saturday

Lawrence Baseball Squad Will Play Host to St. Olaf

The four Lawrence University spring sports teams are slated for action Saturday, with the baseball squad and track unit billed for Appleton engagements.
The trackmen, coached by Gene Davis, tangle with St. Norbert at Whitling Field. Coach Clyde Rusk's diamond contingent plays host to Midwest Conference co-leader St. Olaf in a twin bill at Goodland Field. The doubleheader gets underway at 1 p.m.
The Viking golfers travel to Cornell for a dual match, while Coach Ron Roberts' netmen carry a 7-2 dual mark to Wisconsin State University-Oshkosh.
Probably pitchers for the Viking nine Saturday are Steve Bernsten and Chris Isely.
St. Norbert's trackmen fell victim to WSU-Oshkosh, 90-51, in their last outing. The Green Knights are 3-1 for the season. The Oshkosh squad also handed the Knights their only loss in an 11-1 season in 1964.
Tim Singleton is the Knights' top point man. He competes in the 100, 220 and 440 and relays. Next in line is Jack O'Connor, who cleared 6-4 in the high jump against Oshkosh.
The Vikes were nipped, 67-64, by Ripon in their latest start and now have a 2-3 record for dual meets.

Bees' Pierce Hurls No-Hitter Against Foxes

also found the no-hit magic for six complete innings. Wilkerson's feat however, quite possibly unnoticed by many of the aforementioned 408, will soon be forgotten.
Burlington, now 4-1 in ML action, heads for a 3-game series against Wisconsin Rapids on home grounds. The Foxes hit the highway early this morning on a 6-day road jaunt with stops at Cedar Rapids (tonight) and Dubuque (Monday).
One can only visualize what might have been if Wilkerson had started on the mound in place of Pawlowicz. The former Milwaukee North High School cager, from all appearances, could easily have worked another three, no-hit innings.
Wastes No Time
Burlington wasted no time in reaching Pawlowicz. John Ruedy launched the 7:30 p.m. ball game with a line drive to Elmore Hill in left field. Hull couldn't find the handle and Ruedy wound up on third base as a result of the error. Oscar Flores followed with a sacrifice fly to Hill to score Ruedy.
Dan Coker and Randy Schwartz lined singles to right field and Jim Clark worked Pawlowicz for a walk to jam the sacks with one out. Chuck Robinson's single to left advanced each runner to the next sack, with Coker scoring. Pawlowicz then retired Gary Clemens (pop-fly to the catcher) and fanned Fred Velasquez to end the inning, on the short end of a 2-0 count.
One Blow to Outfield
Ron Perez became one of the Foxes three baserunners with two down in the bottom of the inning when Pierce walked him. Mike Gannon followed with the only ball the Foxes were to hit to an outfielder all night, a hard shot to rightfielder Jim Clark, who had little difficulty making the play.
Burlington hiked the spread to 4-0 in the top of the third when Robinson blooped a single to short left center with two out. Gary Clemens' bat promptly met head-on with a Pawlowicz offering and sent it soaring over the 345-foot mark in left field for a 2-run homer.
From here on, the pitchers took command, completely. The only semblance of a hit off Pierce came in the seventh inning when Steve Myshral cracked a hard liner right at Bees' shortstop Oscar Flores. Flores got his glove on the ball easily enough, but he couldn't hang on to make the play, resulting in an error. Myshral was erased from the basepaths immediately as Ron Perez grounded into a double play.
Ray Witkowski became the Foxes' third and last baserunner in the eighth inning on four straight balls.
Signs of Pressure
Pierce showed signs of no-hit pressure in the seventh, but the frenzied drama of the situation soon wore off and he finished with the coolness which he possessed at the start of the game.
Wilkerson, in his 6-inning no-hit stint, allowed just two

Poland Authorities Cancel Tilts With American All-Stars

WASHINGTON (AP) — Polish authorities, giving no official comment, have canceled games scheduled by an American All-Star basketball team in five Polish cities.
The team revised its tour plans and will make Rome, Italy the first stop on its European trip.
The eight National Basketball Association stars, accompanied by Philadelphia Coach Dolph Schayes and NBA President Walter Kennedy, had been scheduled to arrive in Warsaw this weekend for games in Warsaw, Lodz, Poznan, Wroclaw and Krakow.
But the Poles notified the U.S. Embassy the visit was being canceled for lack of hotel space and a sudden unavailability of arenas.
Official Polish disfavor with U.S. policy in Viet Nam, however, was viewed as the real reason for the cancellation.
Nicholas Rodis, special State Department assistant for athletic programs, said here Thursday night.
Short Message
"All I know is that we got a very short message from Warsaw Wednesday that the plans had been canceled. We got on the ball and substituted Italy. We knew Italy had wanted the players to visit there for several months."
The basketball tour was scheduled under State Department sponsorship.
Rodis declined to attribute the cancellations to a growing chill in relations between the United States and Communist countries over the Viet Nam conflict.
"I think our relations with the Poles in sports are excellent," he said, "especially in basketball."
Under the new schedule, the team will go directly to Rome, and follow with stops in Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Bucharest, Romania, and Beirut, Lebanon.
Neenah Golf Unit Nips AHS
Rockets Triumph On the Second Overtime Hole
The Appleton High School golfers battled Neenah to a 21-21 stand-off before the Rockets upended the Terrors on the second sudden-death hole, 23 to 24.
Both teams had posted totals of 20 on the first sudden death hole at Winagamie Golf Course Thursday.
Neenah's Mike Boyd, Pete Kuehl and Paul Piekarz and Appleton's Bob Ness tied for medalist honors with 9-hole totals of 40, four over par.
Other Neenah scores were Jim Schultz, 45 and Pete Hackstock, 46. AHS' total included Dennis Adamski's 44, Steve Winter's 41, Tome Tretin's 42 and Ollie Champeau's 41.
The AHS junior varsity turned the table on the Rocket JVS, 23-24. Jim Berkman and Bob Martin Jr. led the Terrors with 42 and 46, respectively. J. Sorenson's 46 and J. Henebry's 47 were low for Neenah.
The next outing for the Terror varsity is slated for Saturday at Butte Des Morts against Oshkosh and Green Bay Southwest.

Wisconsin invades winless Northwestern today for a two-day tripleheader. The Badgers, 2-1 in Big Ten play, will face the Wildcats, 0-6, once this afternoon and twice Saturday.
League-leading Michigan, 6-0, will meet Minnesota, 3-3, today and Iowa, 2-2, in a doubleheader Saturday. Second-place Ohio State, 5-1, will take on Purdue, 1-3, today and play two games against Illinois, 3-3, Saturday.

Saldivar Lays Crown on Line

Featherweight King Battles Raul Rojas Title Fight Tonight
LOS ANGELES (AP) — World featherweight champion Vicente Saldivar of Mexico puts his newly won title on the line for the first time tonight and is favored to retain it in a 15-round fight with Raul Rojas of San Pedro, Calif.
Just turned 22, the switch-hitting Saldivar still is a 9-5 favorite over the 23-year-old ex-dock worker in a match many believe will go the full distance.
The site is immense Memorial Coliseum and a crowd of 18,000 is expected at fight time, scheduled for midnight, EDT.
Co-featured is a 12-round flyweight elimination battle between Japan's Hiroyuki Ebihara, former ruler of the world 112-pounders, and Alacran Torres of Guadalajara, Mex. This match is slated to follow the main event.
Won Title Last Sept.
Saldivar won the title last Sept. 26 when he stopped Sugar Ramos in 11 rounds in Mexico City, a result that proved to be a stunning surprise to boxing fans.
Saldivar has lost but one match in 26 professional fights. This was on an accidental but against Baby Luis. Vicente later knocked Luis out in seven rounds.
Rojas, unbeaten in 25 matches but held to a draw in one, did not box as an amateur and has been a pro only about three years. However, he is ranked No. 3 by the World Boxing Association in the 126-pound division.
Saldivar had 45 amateur bouts, losing three, and fought for Mexico in the 1960 Olympic Games. He lost but still thinks he won every round in his lone Olympic appearance.
6 Rear-Engine Cars Grounded For Modification
INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — U.S. Auto Club officials Thursday grounded six rear-engine cars from further practice for the Indianapolis 500-mile race until modifications are made in their hub carriers.
All had the same carrier configuration as the one which failed on a Sheraton-Thompson Lotus-Ford driven by A. J. Foyt, Houston, Tex., Wednesday. The carrier, part of the rear axle assembly, broke and Foyt crashed into a retaining wall. He wasn't hurt.
The cars affected by the temporary ban are Foyt's Lotus-Ford and his new Lola, Parnelli Jones' Lotus-Ford and Lola and the two team Lotus-Fords now at the track.

Had to Gamble, Says President of Knicks

BY JOE REICHLER

NEW YORK (AP) — "If we hadn't picked him and he decided to play and wound up with another club, I don't see how we could have kept our franchise."

This was how Ned Irish, president of the New York Knickerbockers, explained his territorial pick of Princeton's Bill Bradley even though the brilliant basketball player had assured him he was by-passing a professional career for a Rhodes scholarship and an eventual law practice.

"I felt we had to take the gamble," Irish said at the conclusion of the National Basketball Association's annual draft of college seniors Thursday.

"If we didn't, I know for a fact that several other clubs were eager to draft him. I realize the chances are almost nil that he'll ever turn pro but we could not afford to pass him up."

Several Stars
The Knicks acquired the rights to several outstanding college stars, notably Dave Stallworth of Wichita and Dick Van Arsdale of Indiana, but they gladly would have given up all 13 of their selections for one affirmative nod from the Princeton pride.

"Bradley is a super-star," acknowledged Irish. "His kind comes along only once every four or five years. The last draftee of his caliber was Jerry Lucas. I consider Bradley in the same class with Wilt Chamberlain, Bill Russell, Oscar Robertson and Elgin Baylor."

It has been reported that Irish had offered Bradley $100,000 to sign a Knickerbocker contract.

"I made him no definite offer," Irish said. "However, I made it plain to him there was no ceiling on what we were prepared to pay him."

Bradley was one of the three territorial picks. The other clubs who exercised their territorial rights were Detroit, which picked Bill Buntin of Michigan and Los Angeles, which selected Gail Goodrich of UCLA.

First Round Pick
Stallworth was New York's first round choice. San Francisco, which finished last in the Western Division, had two first round picks and chose Fred Hetzel of Davidson and Rick Barry of Miami, Fla.

Other first round choices were Jerry Sloan of Evansville by Baltimore; Bill Cunningham of North Carolina by Philadelphia; Jim Washington, Villanova, by St. Louis; Nate Bowman, Wichita, by Cincinnati and Ollie Johnson, San Francisco, by Boston.

Knudson Leads Colonial Test

Ben Hogan Only 1 Stroke Behind At Fort Worth

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Soft greens and sparse fairways promised more sub par rounds today as Canadian champion

George Knudson, with a two-under par 68, led a field of 72 top golfers into the second round of the $100,000 Colonial National Invitational Tournament.

The Toronto pro shot a two-under-par 68 Thursday.

One stroke behind in the race for the $20,000 top prize were five others, including Fort Worth's Ben Hogan, a five-time winner over the 7,132-yard layout, sometimes known as Hogan's Alley.

The others were Johnny Pott, Gene Littler, Mike Souchak and Tommy Bolt.

The extra soft greens, which often stopped a low hooking approach shot dead in its tracks, gave the golfers a real break Thursday.

Hogan was in a mellow mood after his fine round, even though three putts on the 18th hole kept him out of a tie with Knudson.

"I'm putting better than I have in the last five or six years," he said. "and I was hitting the ball fairly well today. I got a clue a few days ago, and I'm hitting the ball more solidly, and my fades are coming off just right."

Arnold Palmer, winner of the Tournament of Champions at Las Vegas last week, had this to say about his opening round 73: "I wasn't real pleased, but also I didn't play real bad either. Take away those double-bogeys out of the sand traps at No. 7 and 17, and it would have been pretty good."

Four More Marines Killed in Santo Domingo Rebel Zone

'Wrong Turn' Blamed for Deaths; Toll Reaches 13

BY LOUIS UCHITELLE
SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Another wrong turn into rebel territory was blamed today for the deaths of four Marines, bringing the U.S. death toll in the Dominican fighting to at least 13.

U.S. sources said three Marines were killed Thursday after a patrol wandered accidentally into the insurgent-held sector of downtown Santo Domingo. Two others were wounded and one died after he was taken to the aircraft carrier Boxer.

A rebel spokesman said one insurgent was killed and two wounded in the encounter. The rebels at first accused the United States of violating the cease-fire arranged Wednesday by a peace commission of the Organization of American States. Later they said they believed the Marine patrol had taken a wrong turn.

Newsman Hurt
Two U.S. newsmen who had been observing the clash from a taxi were caught in the crossfire and wounded slightly. They were Al Brut and photographer Doug Kennedy, both of the Miami (Fla.) Herald.

A U.S. military source said the newsmen had passed through a rebel checkpoint and were approaching the U.S. lines when the insurgents opened fire on the Marines and the Marines fired back. The source said it was probable that U.S. gunfire wounded the newsmen.

Another Marine patrol took a wrong turn Wednesday into rebel territory. After sharp firing the rebels captured two of the Marines but released them Thursday to the OAS Peace Commission. The commission returned them to American authorities.

Other Incidents
In other incidents Thursday, snipers wounded two U.S. paratroopers and hit a helicopter, wounding the pilot in the legs. A flurry of sniping activity broke out near the U.S. Embassy during the afternoon, but it died down quickly.

Otherwise Santo Domingo was quiet Thursday, and more stores reopened for the first time since the revolution broke out April 24.

Col. Francisco Caamano Dengo, the rebel provisional president, hotly denied a charge by a U.S. official that he had agreed to give Communists posts in his rebel government. "It's a lie," Caamano told newsmen.

Caamano also denied a U.S. claim that Fidelio Despradel, identified as a prominent Communist, was one of his aides. "I don't even know who Despradel is," Caamano declared.

Hector Arista, Caamano's secretary, said the rebel chief had closed down a radio station which came on the air Wednesday and called on Dominicans to "kill in blood and fire the foreign invaders and their lackeys."

Arista said the station, which called itself "Radio Constitucionalista," did not represent the rebel position.

Police Find Three Leads in Clown's Death

1,500 Persons Are Questioned in New York Murder

NEW YORK (AP) — Questioning of some 1,500 persons, including prostitutes, thieves and badger game operators, has given police three definite leads in the mystery slaying of famed circus clown Paul Jung.

"We are optimistic that we will eventually break the case," chief of detectives Philip J. Walsh told newsmen Thursday. He described the leads as "quite substantial."

Walsh said detectives are trying to track down a person who "is running" and also are attempting to contact a second person here who is not running.

He declined to say even whether they are men or women. The third lead, he said, concerned "physical evidence that will help in the solution."

Blunt Instrument
Walsh again refused to describe the blunt instrument that was found near the bludgeoned body of Jung, chief clown of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Circus. He disclosed, however, that it was hotel property.

Jung, 64, who delighted circus fans for three decades, was found slain April 21 in his midtown hotel room. His face and head were beaten, and his hands were tied behind his back.

Among those questioned, Walsh said, were 233 permanent and transient guests at the hotel, including longshoremen who stay there. This led in turn to the waterfront, where dockworkers and seafarers, who sometimes work for the circus, were quizzed.

Also questioned were 264 persons with the circus, from top executives to roustabouts. The investigation thus far has taken detectives to 125 hotels and rooming houses in New York and to five major cities along the East Coast from Florida to New England.

A bell captain came up on Jung's body after he failed to appear at the circus, one block away at Madison Square Garden. Only 45 minutes before the discovery, an Easter week morning performance of the circus had begun.

About the time the body was discovered, an audience of more than 18,000 was roaring approval of a lion production. The Fire House, a substitute had taken Jung's place inside the "burning house."

Carpenters Picket Sheboygan Projects
SHEBOYGAN (AP) — Picket lines were thrown up at 25 construction sites Thursday as the carpenters' union local 657 struck in a wage dispute.

Carpenters also walked off the job at 15 other projects. The union's business representative (Carl Mohr Jr.) said the local was seeking an increase of 80 cents an hour in wages and fringe benefits over three years. While the Builders Association offered 60 cents.

Separate Budget Meetings

State Finance Committee Rift Widens on Partisan Lines

MADISON (AP) — The partisan rift on the Democratic-controlled Joint Finance Committee has widened with members of both parties meeting separately on Gov. Warren P. Knowles' tax and budget bills.

A boycott by Democrats of the Republican-called public hearing on the governor's $128.8 million tax bill came off Thursday as promised.

While the six Republican members of the committee held the hearing on the fourth floor of the Capitol, the eight Democratic members continued executive sessions on Knowles' proposed $832 million budget three floors below.

The physical division of the committee didn't prevent the Democrats from having their side heard at the tax hearing, though.

Package of Feelers
The top Democratic spokesman in the Assembly, Speaker Robert Huber, D-West Allis, appeared and told the six Republicans he was "amused" by the "package of feelers" that Knowles had offered the Legislature.

He disputed Knowles' contention that the bill was a compromise because it included both sales taxes and an income tax, and said the proposal was "wholly unacceptable" to Democrats.

"The sales taxes go to items of necessity," Huber said, "and by exempting the highest pay bracket from an increase, the income tax boost adds another burden to the people least able to pay."

The tax bill recommends an extended sales tax that would increase state revenues $86.2 million in the biennium and a one-fifth of one per cent increase in income tax rates which would add $29.8 million.

Another $6.8 million would be added by a $1-a-barrel boost in taxes on beer and $6 million from a revision of the method of charging counties for state care of mental patients.

In a prepared statement from Knowles read at the hearing, the governor offered to reopen Wednesday morning conference with legislative leaders.

When Assemblyman Glen Pommerening, R-Wauwatosa, asked if he would come to the meetings, Huber was evasive.

"I'll be there when the budget is settled," he said. "I think we should decide the dollar level there before we decide what sort of taxes to pay for it."

Knowles said in urging the legislators to meet with him to work out a compromise plan that "there is nothing to be gained by further delay except a loss of revenue."

Educators' Support
Representatives of several state educational agencies supported the bill submitted by Knowles, but a number of organizations opposed it because it would extend the sales tax to items they sell or use in their operations.

Meanwhile, the Democrats in their executive session took a big whack out of the recommended budget of the Department of Resource Development, the agency expected to carry out Knowles' campaign pledge.

The Democrats also passed a $3,745,353 budget for the Department of Veterans Affairs after adding $132,307 to Knowles' recommendation.

No discussion preceded the approval of the budgets for the

AFL-CIO Says Youth Poses Major Threat

Unemployment of Younger Workers Topic of Concern

WASHINGTON (AP) — The AFL-CIO warned today that the soaring youth unemployment problem is a major threat, not only to the economy but to the democratic structure of the nation.

In the wake of discouraging new government figures on jobless youths, the labor federation said: "It was the jobless, disillusioned youths who grasped at the 'solutions' offered by Hitler."

America can ill afford to have this sort of discontent among large segments of its population.

Federal antipoverty and school-aid programs are not enough to solve the problem, said an article in the labor organization's magazine, The American Federationist.

Labor Report
The article coincided with the Labor Department's monthly employment report, showing that an early surge of school-age youths seeking jobs had boosted the nation's jobless rate from 4.7 to 4.9 per cent of the labor force in April.

Youth unemployment is expected to hit a peak of 2 million in June as high schools and colleges pour out a flood of young job seekers.

The AFL-CIO said only federal economic policies geared to create new jobs rapidly will ultimately solve the problem.

Higher wages and Social Security benefits, shorter hours to spread employment, and more federal spending for roads, hospitals, education and housing are urgently needed, it said.

Tremendous Challenge
"The challenge confronting the country is tremendous," it added.

An 8-0 vote on a motion by Assemblyman David Obey, D-Wausau, cut the department's budget by $241,835. Then the group unanimously approved a total budget of $1,346,765.

Obey said the department was putting an "overemphasis on promotion."

Blow to Plans
Knowles said at a news conference shortly after the cut was made that he considered the reduction a blow to his plans for the industrial growth in the state.

The Democrats also passed a $3,745,353 budget for the Department of Veterans Affairs after adding $132,307 to Knowles' recommendation.

No discussion preceded the approval of the budgets for the

'Fraudulent Claim' Convict Ad Agency In Diet Pill Case

NEW YORK (AP) — An advertising agency has been convicted of promoting a fraudulent claim that "Regimen" tablets caused a substantial loss of weight without dieting. It marked the first time an advertising agency has been convicted for promoting the product of a client.

A spokesman for the agency said the verdict by a federal jury of 11 men and a woman would be appealed.

The agency, Kastor, Hilton, Chesley, Clifford & Atherton, was found guilty Thursday night on 41 counts in what Asst. U.S. Atty. Martin R. Pollner called "a fraud so cunning and so effective as to gross between $12 million and $15 million in sales of this worthless product."

Officials Guilty
The Drug Research Corp., marketer of the tablets, and its president, John Andreadis, also known as John Andre, were found guilty on 45 counts each.

The jury, which returned no verdict on 11 counts against Drug Research and Andreadis, deliberated 12 hours.

Judge John R. Bartels set June 25 for sentencing.

The agency and Drug Research could receive fines of $1,000 on each count. Andreadis could receive anything from a suspended sentence to a theoretical penalty of 225 years in prison, plus a $225,000 fine.

In announcing that the verdict would be appealed, the spokesman for the advertising agency said: "The judgment, if permitted to stand, thrusts upon advertising agencies new and costly responsibilities, never heretofore contemplated, for testing and verification of products and product claims of clients."

Present Law
Under present statutes, law-makers receive expense money only when they attend a legislative session. The bill places a 110-day limit on the payments.

Assemblyman Everett Bidwell, R-Portage, urged rejection of the bill because he said it would "open the floodgates to unlimited expenses."

The Assembly also approved two similar proposals that would allow public school children to receive religious instruction during school hours.

Constitution Change
A proposed constitutional amendment was passed 73-25 in the morning session. It would permit public school children to be released from school during the day for religious instruction.

During the evening session, 60-32 approval was given to a bill that would allow school boards to arrange the hours of school so that classes would be let out early at the end of the day.

The constitutional amendment would need the approval of two consecutive sessions of the Legislature and the voters in a statewide referendum.

At the start of the trial, a firm called New Drug Institute, named in the same indictment, had pleaded guilty to supplying false clinical information on which the promotion campaign was based.

TB Association Picks Officers For Outagamie

Mrs. Dan Herring Named President at Annual Dinner

Officers and directors of the Outagamie County Tuberculosis Association were named at the annual dinner meeting Wednesday night at the Elks Club with Mrs. Dan Herring, Appleton, elected president to succeed Bernadine Reinkeber of Kaukauna.

Other officers, all of Appleton, are Mrs. Don Sturtevant, vice president; Mrs. John Scherer, secretary; Al H. Stoebe, treasurer; and Mrs. Robert Wuerch, assistant treasurer.

Directors named to three-year terms on the board are Mrs. Robert Klistner and Mrs. Emmett Rohan of Kaukauna and Mrs. Sturtevant, Dorothy DeYoung and Mrs. T. H. Hartman, all of Appleton. The first meeting of the new board will be at 8:30 p.m. May 20 at the Integrity Mutual Insurance Co. building.

$10,000 Receipts

Stoebe reported 1964 receipts of $10,892.

Rev. Roland L. Schwant, pastor of Grace Lutheran Church at Mequon, stressed the importance of the privilege of being on the giving end of service in his talk following the dinner. He pointed out many causes, including that of the anti-tuberculosis groups, have been served with an effectiveness that could not be realized in any other way.

He cited the importance and need of voluntary service along with the benefits and challenge of serving.

"There are people in need, there are causes to be served," he said. "People need something to which they can give themselves. They need to experience the satisfaction and joy of doing something out of conviction."

In his welcome Appleton Mayor Clarence Mitchell declared, "If all the citizens in the nation would devote as much energy and time to help mankind with the effectiveness that the workers of the Anti-Tuberculosis Association have, welfare workers would have few problems."

Wisconsin Rapids Man Held For $3,595 Bank Robbery

WISCONSIN RAPIDS (AP)—A young father of five children was charged Thursday night with the $3,595 holdup of a Wisconsin Rapids bank.

Police Chief R. J. Exner said a sum only $7 short of that total was found stuffed between a basement window and covering insulation in a home rented by Lawrence Conley, 30.

Conley, a short man with reddish-blond hair, was held on a federal bank robbery warrant and slated for arraignment today at Madison.

Exner said Conley had spent about $7 Thursday afternoon on a haircut, glasses and a gift for one of his children.

Lone Gunman

A lone gunman held up the Community State Bank about 2:20 p.m. Thursday and fled in a stolen car after forcing a teller to fill a brown paper sack with $5, $10 and $20 bills.

Exner said Conley had given authorities a statement, but the police chief declined to reveal its contents.

The robber, wearing a white mask and sun glasses, was armed with a .45 caliber pistol. He ordered teller Norbert Brunner to fill the bag with bills and Brunner took about half the contents from drawers at two tellers' cages. The holdup man demanded that Brunner open the vault, but the teller told him it had a time lock.

No Customers

Brunner and two other employees present were not harmed. There were no customers in the bank at the time.

Conley was taken into custody a few hours later after Under-sheriff Donald Caylor recalled the questioning him recently and noted his description was similar to that given for the gun-belted man.

The stolen car used in the holdup was found abandoned later in downtown Wisconsin Rapids.

Conley, his wife and family had moved to Wisconsin Rapids about five months ago from Stevens Point, Exner said.

Constitution Rewrite Resolution Okayed by Assembly Committee

MADISON (AP)—A resolution calling for a referendum on a proposed constitutional convention won a narrow 6-5 endorsement by the Assembly Judiciary Committee Thursday.

All four Republicans on the committee and one Democrat, Assemblyman Albert R. Tadych of Milwaukee, opposed the resolution. Six Democratic members backed it.

Gave Impression Agency Should Reveal Activities

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—The National Broadcasting Company put on a television program Tuesday night which in the opinion of many members of Congress and other viewers, did a distinct disservice to the Central Intelligence Agency—the principal instrumentality of the United States in fighting the “cold war” throughout the world.

Based on fragmentary information and isolated episodes, the program gave the impression that the United States is authorizing a clandestine operation which is both improper and unethical. There were some former officials of the CIA on the program too, but their brief remarks defending the agency's methods were virtually nullified by other commentaries to which prominence was given.

If it were not for the CIA, the United States would not have known about the missile bases in Cuba. Likewise, but for the alertness of the CIA, President Johnson would not have been advised soon enough to take the prompt action he did in the Dominican Republic. Naturally some of its methods are severe. But so are the bullets and bombs of an enemy army in what is known as a “hot war.”

Investigative Work

Too many people are unaware that the investigative work being done by the United States today through the CIA is one of the most important bulwarks against the communists, who by infiltration, are seeking to take over small countries everywhere. One test of the effectiveness of the CIA is whether the communists will be able to gain control of Latin American countries from Mexico southward and whether the United States will be confronted with bases which could be operated by hostile forces capable of using missiles and nuclear weapons.

The “cold war” is not a moral or ethical affair. Neither side is polite in waging its war, but the duty of the press, including television and radio, is to cooperate with their own government in withholding information concerning the activities of any governmental agency which is engaged in secret operations to protect the American people against sudden attack.

During both World Wars, the press voluntarily submitted to its own censorship and withheld information that could be of possible aid or comfort to the enemy. The cold war is in the same category. There are certain military facts and intelligence operations that ought to be kept secret.

No Restraint

The television program this week gave to many viewers the impression that the CIA operates entirely on its own, that there is no one to check upon its operations, and that it is therefore virtually irresponsible. But Allen Dulles, former director of the CIA, said in an all too brief rebuttal on that program that there are four committees of Congress, two in the House and two in the Senate, to which the CIA reports regularly and answers any questions that the legislators ask.

The President also is kept fully informed and has his own intelligence advisory board. No move of any importance is taken without the knowledge of both the President and Congressional committees.

Nothing is, however, published. The committee hearings are secret. Both Republicans and Democrats have maintained silence about these sessions because they have thought it both directly and indirectly was the patriotic thing to do. The CIA itself does not engage in public discussion even to discourage people in other countries from falling victim to television programs which give an erroneous impression to the American people and implies that the CIA is an irresponsible and immoral agency is an unfortunate occurrence.

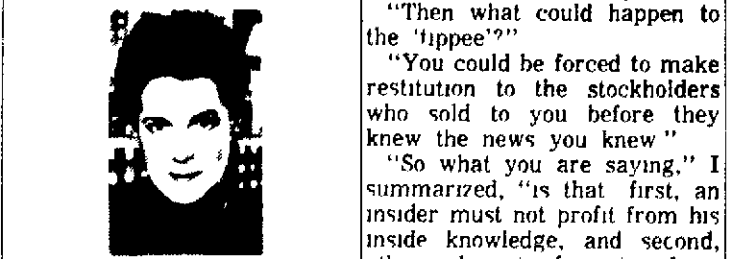

Necessarily Secret

The CIA is necessarily a secret operation. Its personnel abroad is not large, but its secret of its atomic arsenal influence is great. It has a substantial sum of money at its disposal to use in the best interests of this country in the fighting the “cold war.” The press would certainly not wish United States the holocaust of a divulge the nature of military plans during a “hot war,” and there is equal reason for today withholding the details of the

Explosive Implications In Texas Gulf Case

BY SYLVIA PORTER

In 1963 a long-time friend told us to buy the stock of a small company with which he was closely associated. Having the dimmest view of stock tips of any sort from any source, we deliberately forgot his suggestion. The stock then was selling at $6. In the summer of 1964 our friend asked us whether we had bought. When we replied “no,” he said “it's up to $10. Too bad you don't own some.” Again, we deliberately forgot his tip.

Porter

Early this spring he repeated his question. When we confessed we still had not bought, he told us the stock was at $14 and clearly indicated his disgust with us for ignoring his advice.

So we purchased a tiny amount of the stock more to placate him than to profit. At this writing though we already have a huge paper profit on the few shares we hold.

Broke Law

“Did we break the law?” I asked a lawyer who is an expert on the historic suit the Securities & Exchange Commission has just brought against Texas Gulf Sulphur Co. and 13 of its officers, directors and employees who profited enormously by buying Texas Gulf stock before the public was given news of its fabulous copper-silver-zinc strike near Timmins, Ontario.

Your friend broke the law under the SEC's interpretation of the rules governing “insiders,” was his blunt answer.

He was passing on to you information stockholders of the company did not have. Had the stockholders who sold to you known what he obviously knew, they probably wouldn't have sold their shares.

But our friend didn't tell us any secrets. And there has been no sensational news from the company at all.

No Violation

“The fact that he told you to buy was enough. As an insider, his responsibility was to the company and the company's owners.”

One Implication

This is just one of the explosive implications of the SEC's trail-blazing suit against Texas Gulf Sulphur—if the SEC wins. Here is the background: Nov. 12, 1963 test drilling by Texas Gulf near Timmins indicated a major ore find. On Dec. 5 the richness of the strike was confirmed. On Apr. 12, 1964, the company issued a press release deflating rumors that it had struck it rich. On Apr. 16, only four days later, the company finally declared it had made a fantastic discovery.

Between Nov. 12, 1963 and Apr. 16, 1964, company officers and employees—and others tipped by them—bought TG stock at prices ranging from around $17 to $30. After the news broke, the stock skyrocketed. It reached $71 last month. The SEC's suit is seeking to force the TG insiders to make restitution to the persons from whom they bought stock between Nov. 12 and Apr. 16. It also is seeking to compel the company itself to make restitution to stockholders who sold between Apr. 12 and Apr. 16 because they were allegedly misled by the Apr. 12 press release.

It is seeking too to establish the principle that those tipped by insiders to buy stock on secret information have a financial liability to shareholders who unwittingly sell to them before the secret information becomes public.

This is a block-buster action which could establish new standards of ethics and definitions of law in Wall Street.

13 Dead, Many Hurt In Minnesota Twisters

2 Dozen Heavily Populated Suburbs in Path of Storms

BY GALE TOLLIN

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (AP) — A string of tornadoes spewed death and destruction over this heavily populated area of Minnesota Thursday night, killing at least 13 persons, injuring more than 300 and causing millions of dollars in property damage. More than two dozen suburbs lay in the path of the winds over sections to the southwest, west and north of Minneapolis during the supper hour. Heavy rain and two-inch hailstones preceded the twisters.

Utility lines were flattened in many sections dangerously crossing highways lined with homeward bound workers. Dozens of homes were destroyed, and many were damaged.

Tornadoes Hit In Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP) — Tornadoes hit rural areas of western Oklahoma Thursday night, killing a teen-age girl and injuring at least four other persons.

Several farm buildings were damaged during the night of violent storms that also brought crop-damaging hail and rainfall up to three inches.

Authorities said Patsy Caudell, 16, of Sentinel was killed and two teen-age companions were injured, one seriously when a tornado picked up a car which they occupied.

Several farm buildings south of Sentinel were destroyed or heavily damaged.

Hundreds of homes were damaged and many were destroyed.

Gov. Karl Rolvaag called out National Guard units to help local police and Civil Defense volunteers to maintain order. Tornado sightings were reported over at least 25 small towns.

Most Damage

The heaviest damage was reported to communities around Lake Minnetonka, some 15 miles west of Minneapolis and Spring Lake Park and Mounds View, 15 miles north of the city.

Four persons died at Mound, a residential community on Lake Minnetonka's west shore, where dozens of homes were hard hit, and many destroyed.

Island Park and Navarre also on the lake's west side, received heavy property damage and reported many injured.

Four persons died at Spring Lake Park, one at Mounds View and one at Norwood.

The injured in twisters that hit Fridley, Spring Lake Park and Mounds View were brought to Mercy Hospital at Coon Rapids in a continuous stream. After two hours, the hospital's administrator, Robert Van Hauser, pleaded with ambulance drivers and motorists to take their injured to other nearby hospitals.

Van Hauser estimated that upward of 100 persons had been

Part of GOP Backs Rewrite Of Constitution

Predict Attempt At Resolution in Republican Conclave

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — An attempt will be made to put the Republican state organization on record at its La Crosse convention Saturday in support of proposals for the summoning of a state constitutional convention for the rewriting of the 1848 state constitution, capitol sources reported today.

Leading spokesmen of the Republicans in the state legislature are expected to oppose the proposal if it reaches the convention floor.

Thus far the idea of a convention to remodel wholly the state constitution in preference to the separate amendment process has had significant support only from Democrats, among the professional politicians of the state, although it has evoked some favorable response from non-party sources in Milwaukee and elsewhere.

Pending Resolution

A pending resolution in the legislature proposing such a convention bears the names of Democratic authors.

As matters now stand, it is unlikely that the resolution will gather enough votes in the Republican-controlled Senate to win approval, although it is possible that the well-disciplined Democratic bloc in control of the Assembly can put it through the lower house.

The issue of a convention as a substitute for individual amendments as a means of modernizing the constitution has had considerable attention during the last year, in part because of the deliberations of the constitutional revision advisory committee headed by Justice Thomas E. Fairchild of the state supreme court.

Kosygin Hits U. S. Policy In Viet Nam

BERLIN (AP) — Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin accused the United States today of violating elementary rules of international law and warned that Washington must sooner or later take into account that North Viet Nam has friends.

"Those who blindly support the policy of aggression of the United States, such as the government of England or the government of West Germany, are shouldering a great and far-reaching responsibility," he declared.

Seabees Begin On New Airbase For Viet Nam

6,000 More U. S. Troops Landed Without Incident

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A flotilla of landing craft brought 3,000 U.S. marines and 3,000 Seabees ashore today at Chu Lai, 52 miles south of the big Da Nang air base. The Leathernecks will guard a combat airfield which the Seabees will construct.

There was no contact with the Viet Cong during the landing, but far to the South the Communist guerrillas staged a savage attack on a Roman Catholic town, inflicting 105 casualties.

U.S. officials in Saigon reported three raids by 10 U.S. Navy planes Thursday over North Viet Nam. The sorties were aimed at railroad traffic, ferry boats, bridges and trucks.

Good Results

Pilots reported good results, but specific details were not given. All planes returned to their carriers, officials said.

The Marines and Seabees landed at Chu Lai in perfect weather, and the Seabees went to work at once building a 4,000-foot airstrip to be used for operations in central Viet Nam. Intelligence sources have said a North Vietnamese regiment is operating in the foothills and mountains to the west of Chu Lai.

After construction is completed, the Marines will move out into the area, seeking out the Viet Cong on missions similar to those being undertaken in the other U.S. Marine areas of Da Nang and Phu Bai, to the north of Chu Lai.

The big new landing, plus the increased American involvement elsewhere in Viet Nam, is behind the request which President Johnson made of Congress for an extra $700 million. Congress approved the request Thursday.

The landing brings the total number of U.S. servicemen in South Viet Nam to about 45,000.

Six battalions of Vietnamese soldiers had been operating in the Chu Lai area for the past two days, clearing out the Viet Cong. Eight guerrillas were killed and 13 captured. Two Vietnamese troops were killed and six wounded in the clearing operations.

Landing of all the Marine tanks and other equipment was expected to take another three days.

The attack Thursday night by about 1,000 Viet Cong on the town of Hai Yan, populated largely with Roman Catholic refugees from North Viet Nam, was the heaviest in the southern Mekong River delta in many months.

Jury Still Out In Civil Rights Murder Case

No Strain Shows On Accused During Fifth Day of Trial

HAYNEVILLE, Ala. (AP) — A deadlocked jury tried again today to reach a verdict in the murder trial of Collier Leroy Wilkins Jr., the Ku Klux Klansman charged with the highway killing of a civil rights worker from Detroit.

The 12 white men returned to their deliberations in a small room off the second-floor courtroom at 9 a.m. They spent four hours and 20 minutes trying to decide on a verdict Thursday in the slaying of Viola Gregg Liuzzo, 39, mother of five.

White-haired T. Werth Thard, the trial judge, stood relaxed, hands in pockets, to greet the jury. Then the jurors filed out quietly.

Wilkins, 21, of Fairfield, Ala., the man accused of firing the death shot, showed no sign of strain from the trial now in its fifth day. He walked casually around the courtroom, talking with his slender, gray-haired father. Then he strolled to the counsel table and took a seat.

Morgenthau Hits U. S. Policy Abroad as Being Outmoded

University of Chicago Expert Speaks at IPC Executives' Meeting

BY DICK LYNEIS
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

American foreign policy planners were accused Thursday night of using outmoded methods in dealing with problems of the modern world. Dr. Hans J. Morgenthau, professor of political science and modern history and director of the Center for Study of American Foreign and Military Policy at the University of Chicago, made the charge at the main banquet of the 29th annual Executives' Conference of the Institute of Paper Chemistry. The event was held at North Shore Golf Club.

"Present American foreign policy," Morgenthau said, "is in a state of real, profound crisis. It's not a crisis caused by deficiencies or mistakes," he said, "but a crisis which goes to the foundations of our foreign policy."

"We are applying the 1947 policy of containment" against communism, Morgenthau said, "and using the principles of the Marshall Plan and the Truman Doctrine. These policies were appropriate in 1947, but the world has radically changed."

He was strongly critical of President Johnson's policy in Southeast Asia, particularly in Viet Nam.

"Great Mistake"

"We are making a great mistake," he said, "by not playing communist powers against each other, and by linking the communism of the Viet Cong, the communism of North Viet Nam and the communism of China."

"China is a hereditary enemy

of Viet Nam. Ho Chi Minh (North Vietnamese president) hasn't the slightest desire of becoming a satellite of China."

"But," he said, "American foreign policy is unifying these two countries."

81 Jets Hit N. Viet Nam; 1 F105 Lost

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Eight-one U.S. Air Force jets attacked bridges and barracks in North Viet Nam today. One F105 fighter-bomber was downed in the sea by enemy guns, but the pilot was rescued by an Air Force amphibious plane.

The downed F105 was one of 25 bombers and 40 supporting fighters that attacked the Thanh Hoa highway and railroad bridge over the Song Ma River, 80 miles south of Hanoi.

This was the third time American planes had attacked the bridge.

Later, 16 other F105s, escorted by the same 40 fighters, staged an armed reconnaissance raid along North Viet Nam's routes 1, 8, 12, 15 and 82 about 90 miles south of Hanoi.

Pilots reported seeing no traffic over the roads. Instead, they attacked two small bridges and three barracks, all of which were reported damaged. All planes on the second raid returned safely despite enemy groundfire.

No enemy aircraft were sighted.

Harry Truman 81 Saturday

One Birthday Gift Is Money, About $1 Million

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) —

Harry S. Truman will be 81 years old Saturday and one of his gifts will be money — up to one million dollars. Twenty years ago he got a better present when in "a solemn and glorious hour" he announced the end of the war with Germany.

That was on the 26th day of his presidency, the day after he moved his family to the White House. He wrote his mother "I slept in the President's room" last night.

"This will be a historical day," he said. "At 9:00 o'clock this morning, I must make a broadcast to the country: Announcing the German surrender. The papers were signed yesterday morning and hostilities will cease on all fronts at midnight tonight. Isn't that some birthday present?"

Truman Pleased

Truman will be pleased with this year's present too. The money is for the project he cherishes most — the study by scholars of the office of the presidency, of the Truman administration and of Truman himself.

Tom L. Evans, one of the former President's closest friends and treasurer of the Truman Library Institute Board, solicited the money in 70,000 letters. Evans says the response has been overwhelming, "contributions from $7,500 to 25 cents."

He'll announce the current total at the birthday luncheon attended each year by 100 or more of Truman's friends.

The luncheon, if tradition holds, will be the informal type Truman enjoys most, with short, affectionate speeches, cheer by his World War I buddies and the singing of earthy parodies specially written for the occasion.

Bids for Fire Truck Totalling $13,095 Accepted at Hilbert

Village Board Also Considers Stepping Up Police Protection

HILBERT — Bids totaling $13,095 on the chassis, body and pump for a new fire truck were accepted by the village board Wednesday.

Lowest of six bids, at $5,095, was accepted from Collins Service Garage, Collins, for a Chevrolet chassis. Wisconsin Fire Equipment Co., Two Rivers, will supply the body and pump for $7,000. New hose equipment, expected to total about $1,500, will be ordered later.

The State Rating Bureau recommended purchase of the new unit to assure the areas being served by the volunteer department of adequate protection, according to Fire Chief Ernie Pitzen. He said fire insurance rates in the Hilbert area probably would have been raised without the purchase of the truck.

Recreation Budget
Larry Mauthe, chairman of the summer recreation program, was told $800 will be made available for recreation activities as soon as it is needed.

Victor Juno, head of the Calumet County Traffic Department, recommended additional police protection for the village. He also pointed out that violations arising in Hilbert can be tried in County Court, with all fines reverting to the village.

Orville Manz, board president, appointed a committee of Robert (Bud) Luck, Howard Sielaff and Clarence Stengel to work with Juno. Ernie Pitzen currently is the policeman.

Estimates were ordered for road work on Fifth Street, from Main to Cedar and on Sixth Street from Main to Calumet. A special meeting will be called later by Clarence Stengel, chairman, to set up a definite road improvement program.

Numbering Ordinance

Village Clerk Mrs. Arthur Pruess reported all necessary alterations in the house numbering ordinance had been made by attorney Robert Lutz. The ordinance then was adopted.

The building owned by Viola Feldhausen, and not containing necessary sanitary facilities, will be torn down after proper legal notice is given, according to Manz.

No Decision Reached on Lake Project

WEYAUWEGA — No decision has been reached concerning drainage of the man-made Weyauwega Lake.

Dan Folz, district fish manager for the Wisconsin Conservation Department, met recently with Wisconsin Michigan Power Co. officials to discuss a proposal on management of Lake Weyauwega. The utility operates a dam which controls the level of the lake.

Folz said a public hearing would be held if it was decided to drain the lake. Another meeting will be scheduled later to further discuss the program.

The original plan had been to open the dam and drain the lake. The conservation department would allow the lake to stand for a year to kill off the rough fish.

Fremont to Review Assessment Status

Village Board Required to Act On Property Owners' Petition; Municipality Has No Assessor

FREMONT — The village's property assessment status will be reviewed at a special meeting, tentatively scheduled at 8 p.m. Tuesday, of the village board and representatives of Wausau District office of the state supervisor of assessment.

A petition, presented to the village board by Edwin Sader, gave rise to plans for the meeting. State statutes require that Sader's petition be given board attention because it carries signatures of owners of property with a total assessed valuation representing more than 5 per cent of the village's $830,000 overall assessed value. The assessed value is 27 per cent of the recommended full value. Property represented by Sader's petition is assessed at more than $100,000. Only $41,500 in property would have met statutory minimums to qualify the petition.

County Supervisor
Sader, who is the village representative on the county board of supervisors, stated that he had served on the local board of review and other official capacities in the village for 25 years.

The board's other alternative is to present the petition to the Madison tax division office but this would require the village to pay the costs of a public hearing at Madison.

The village does not have a local assessor. There were no candidates at the election. Caucus nominees declined to run. Of the 11 write-in names, incumbent Assessor Eugene Redemann was re-elected but he declined at the March caucus and declined again after the election in April.

$6 Million Indian Aid Bills Proposed

Sen. Nelson, Rep. Laird to Offer Identical Measures on Monday

WASHINGTON — Identical bills authorizing payment of about $6 million in federal aid to the Menominee Indians will be introduced Monday by Sen. Gaylord Nelson and Rep. Melvin R. Laird (R-Marshfield).

The provisions of the bill include: educational, public welfare and medical, tuberculosis control, sanitation, sewage improvements and study and authorization for a loan to Menominee Enterprises Inc. for expansion of recreational and lumber mill operations.

Commencing July 4, beginning of the fiscal year, the bill authorizes payment of $150,000 yearly for five years to be used for educational aids. Commencing July 1, 1970, the aids will be reduced $25,000 each consecutive year for five years and will terminate at the end of that time.

Under the same five year plan $100,000 will be allocated each fiscal year starting this July 1 for five years for public welfare and medical assistance and will be cut down to $83,000 in 1970 and $67,000 the next year, then to $50,000, $30,000 and $17,000 in succeeding years.

Starting July 1, 1965, for five years, $100,000 will be granted for sanitation and hospitalization of tuberculosis patients. This grant will terminate at the end of the five year period.

A flat $450,000 will be allocated to connect existing sewer facilities with the houses and business places within Menominee County. This is a one-year plan.

These aids will be administered by the Health Education and Welfare (HEW) Department, which can either turn the money over to the State of Wisconsin for distribution in the county or if the HEW wishes, it can distribute them.

Another portion of the bill would provide $50,000 for the Secretary of Commerce to make detailed studies of the multiple expansion of Menominee Enterprises, Inc. and for development of recreational facilities, which presumably would be a source of county income.

A further provision of this section of the bill would authorize a loan to Menominee Enterprises Inc. not to exceed $5 million. This would be for diversification of industrial development of the county.

Planners Agree Winnebago Pipeline Best for Appleton

Fox Valley Communities Won't Join in Lake Michigan Tapping

Walter Rasmussen, City of Appleton planning director, said pointed out that a practical plan to find another "biggest mistake the committee could make would be to Appleton's immediate problem and then establish a long range goal for all Fox Valley communities."

Robert Poss, director of public works for the City of Menasha, and Wayne Bryan, director of public works for the City of Neenah, said their respective communities were not interested in participating in a Lake Michigan pipeline at the present time.

They both expressed satisfaction with their communities' Lake Winnebago water supply. Bryan said the quality of Lake Winnebago's raw water "has improved over the past 20 years." Poss said the minor odor and taste problems Menasha has is "nothing we can't live with."

Biggest Problems

Robert Bues, public works director for Appleton, said "one of the biggest problems that must be overcome is the time lapse between the various communities."

Two Vehicles Collide at Waupaca Intersection

WAUPACA — Vehicles driven by Carrol R. Jensen, 42, route 1, and Earl L. Lillie, 62, route 1, collided at 7:30 a.m. Thursday at the intersection of Fulton and Washington Streets.

Outagamie County's 38 delegates represent 351 dues-paying members, which is below the county quota of 1,078 members set by the state party headquarters.

Roland Holtz, Algoma, Eighth District Democratic vice chairman, appeared at the meeting Thursday night to inform the Outagamie group that he was opposed to Robert McCormick Lillie, north on Washington Street, for the post of district chairman.

After the business session, the group had an open discussion on Wisconsin's beer drinking law failure to yield the right of way and on United States involvement in the Vietnamese war.

Valley Grain Fields Damaged

Outagamie Agent Calls Farmer Information Session

BY PAT DUFFEY
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Hay and fall-sown grain fields in Fox Valley area counties have been extensively damaged, according to reports from county agricultural agents.

In Outagamie County a special informational meeting to discuss use of supplemental or emergency crops has been set for 8:15 p.m. Wednesday at the Black Creek Community Hall by County Agent Russell Lucknow.

Prof. Duane Rohweder, extension specialist from the University of Wisconsin Department of Agriculture, will be featured on the program.

Lucknow said winter injury to alfalfa has been quite extensive in the county. "Many stands have been completely killed, while others were seriously damaged," he said.

Agents Confirm

County Agents Orrin Meyer from Calumet, Vern Peroutky of Winnebago, and Joe Walker of Waupaca confirmed his findings in their areas.

In fields where the Vernal variety was planted the least amount of damage was reported. Meyer said a check of varieties in his test plot near New Holstein indicated the otherwise hardy strains were mushy.

The Wisconsin Department of Agriculture (WDA) in reports to agents this week listed crop possibilities to cope with the situation.

Causing Factors

Causing factors included the January thaw, cold temperatures, lack of snow cover and ice sheets which covered fields

Sen. Nelson Asks FHA Fund Hike

WASHINGTON—Sen. Gaylord Nelson urged a Senate subcommittee today to increase the Farmers Home Administration loan authorization from $200 million to $450 million to meet a "national rural credit gap."

"There is every indication that the need for insured loans will increase in Wisconsin, and in all rural areas, because of an increase in land values and a growing number of young farmers who want to get established or to make their farms more efficient by adding more land," Nelson said.

A bill co-sponsored by Nelson authorizing the increase is being considered by the Subcommittee on Financing of the Senate Agriculture Committee, Nelson said.

They were Chuck Bate, Lynne Behnke and David Miller for their 4-H work, and Marilyn Pingel, Lonnie Conradt, Dahl Rindt and Madge Mack for work in the Future Farmers and Future Homemakers of America in 1964.

Future Christmas Trees

Harvest of Seedlings Underway

PLAINFIELD—While the agriculture scene is slow over the state this area is bustling with the harvesting of Christmas tree seedlings.

The Seedling Nursery Farm, also known as the Theal Nursery, is a busy spot. The harvest has reached 60,000 seedlings per day and about three million a year.

Although the main business is growing and selling the seedlings, they also sell potted Christmas trees. Shearing takes place in July and requires about 100 employees as compared to the present 30.

The firm also sells Christmas trees in fall.

Seedlings are transplanted by hand. A sliding machine loosens the seedlings, cutting below the surface, for easy pulling. The loosened seedlings are packed 1,000 to a tub and taken to the packaging shed.

In the wrapping department the seedlings are sorted, graded and packed in moist moss and wrapped 50 per bundle for delivery. Mostly local persons are employed.

Germany Plunged From Top Power to World War Loss

Editor's note — From the pin-broke Hitler's armed forces, the end of the Nazi regime 20 years ago came with Hitler's struction as the Allied armies suicide in his bunker. The following last of four articles on the rise and fall of Hitlerite Germany draws the picture of those last historic days.

BY JOHN BAUSMAN

BERLIN (AP) — The fall of France in June 1940 left Hitler free to choose another victim.

At first he set his sights on Britain and made elaborate plans for "Operation Sea Lion," the German invasion of England. But an essential condition was air superiority, a goal that Hermann Goering's Luftwaffe was never able to establish over Britain.

The Battle of Britain raged in the skies throughout the second half of 1940. The British pilots, who gradually turned the balance of air losses in their favor, were the first force to check Hitler's advance.

But the Nazi dictator by this time had set his sights on the Soviet Union with whom he had signed a 10-year nonaggression pact only 22 months before. It was to be a land campaign of unprecedented dimensions and fired the imagination of the Fuehrer.

Balkan Flank
To prepare for the campaign, Hitler secured his Balkan flank by taking Yugoslavia in April of 1941 and then Greece, which had successfully resisted an Italian invasion six months earlier.

On June 22, 1941, Hitler unleashed 3½ million men in a three-pronged attack on Russia. At first all went so smoothly that an elated Hitler was counting on victory in a matter of weeks.

But while Hitler declared the Soviet Union had been "struck down, never to rise again," the Russians were putting up increasingly strong resistance.

Hitler's dream that the "whole rotten structures" of the Soviet Union would collapse proved unfounded. His mobile armies bogged down in mud and the harsh winter slowed the blitzkrieg to a crawl.

U.S. in War
The Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor on Dec. 7, 1941, brought the United States into the war against the Axis. And while the

The year of 1942 saw Nazi domination reach its peak. The summer campaign into southern Russia added new territory and in North Africa, Gen. Erwin Rommel, whose Afrika Korps had come to the aid of the Italians in early 1941, threatened the British at El Alamein.

But these last thrusts were deceptive. They tested the limits of Nazi strength and it proved to be the end. Rommel was forced into retreat by the British in October and the campaign in southern Russia brought bitter defeat at Stalingrad. The tide was turned.

Summer Offensive
In November 1942, the Americans and British landed in North Africa and by the following spring had wiped out the Axis forces there. The Nazis launched another summer offensive in Russia in 1943, but the Soviets blocked them.

The Allies stepped up massive bombings of German cities throughout 1953. In July the American, British and Canadian forces invaded Sicily and in September, Italy proper.

The approaching defeat only seemed to spur Hitler and his more warped aides in their fiendish projects to kill off all Jews and enemies of the Reich.

In 1944, when the Western Allies had landed in France and Russia was rolling back the eastern front, the SS was burning 6,000 or more bodies a day at Auschwitz alone. In June of that year, the month of the Allied landing in Normandy, more than a quarter of a million Hungarian Jews alone were put to death at Auschwitz.

Peak of Fury
Nazi fury reached a peak on July 20, 1944, when a small group of officers, hoping to save Germany from destruction by getting rid of Hitler, attempted to assassinate the Fuehrer at his headquarters, the "Wolf's Lair," at Rastenburg in East Prussia. The attempt failed and hundreds of persons, including 21 officers of high rank died in the purge that followed.

The outcome of the war could no longer be denied. But Hitler refused to give up. In December 1944, he launched a final offensive against the Western Allies, calling up boys and old men to strengthen his forces in defense of the Reich. It proved only a temporary halt on the road to final defeat.

Committed Suicide
On May 1 the official German radio announced that Hitler had died "fighting to the last breath against Bolshevism." It is now generally accepted that he had committed suicide on April 30 in his Berlin bunker with his long-time mistress and bride of one tormentors.

Their bodies were carried to the cities separately tried and condemned thousands more. And along Russian troops were only Germany itself, 20 years after the war, still was conducting war crimes trials.

chief of operation for the armed forces high command, signed the unconditional surrender of Germany at the instruction of Grand Adm. Karl Doenitz, Hitler's designated successor.

In a little over 12 years the thousand-year Reich had come to an end. The Allies were to write another chapter to its history in the war crimes trials held at Nuernberg the following year.

Goebbels Too

Joseph Goebbels, the minister of propaganda escaped Allied hands by committing suicide the day after Hitler did. Heinrich Himmler, head of the SS, managed to commit suicide after his arrest by the British.

But the Allies tried and condemned to death Hermann Goering. No 2 man under Hitler: Nazi Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop; Field Marshal Wilhelm Keitel; Dr. Ernst Kaltenbrunner, last chief of the SS security service.

Alfred Rosenberg, the Nazi party "philosopher"; Hans Frank, governor of occupied Poland; Dr. Wilhelm Frick, Nazi minister of interior; Julius Streicher, Nazi publicist and Jew-baiter; Arthur Seyss-Inquart, the Austrian quisling and Nazi governor of Holland; Fritz Sauckel, head of the slave labor program, and Gen. Jodl.

All were hanged except Goering who took poison two hours before he was to mount the gallows.

There is such a thing as beef tapeworm as well as fish tapeworm. Thorough cooking provides safety from all of the worms. You aren't going to stop eating beef now, are you? I trust not.

State Makes Good Moisture Comeback

MADISON (AP) — Except for the poor conditions during the southern one-third of the spring of 1962, Wisconsin has made a good comeback in top soil moisture, state climatologist Marvin W. Burley reported today.

"With the exception of that area the state has just about recovered from the recent three years of drought," said Burley. "We even received a report from an area in Iowa County where it was found that water tables have come up two to three feet and this is encouraging."

and Gays Mills on Palm Sunday and the worst flooding in Wisconsin history along the Mississippi River and its tributaries during the last two weeks of the month.

As late as April 16 the state had frost depths averaging from 25 to 30 inches in a 40-mile band from Pierce County to the middle of Marathon County.

Many northern lakes were still ice covered April 20.

Bossy Is Worried Over Her Social Status in Herd

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — Cows worry about their social status in the herd, says a University of California professor of animal husbandry.

"Age, weight, aggressiveness, agility and timidity are important factors that influence a cow's social rank," says Prof. Kenneth A. Wagnon.

If the self-feeder accommodates eight cows, rarely more than four will eat at a time, he says, because dominant cows keep the timid ones away. The timid ones wait around and eat later.

Farm Product Exports Recover From Decline

Exports of farm products are recovering from the sharp decline brought on by the longshoremen's strike during January and February.

A government report showed today that exports during the last half of 1964 were running 9 per cent above those of a year earlier. They dropped to almost half of those of a year earlier during the strike.

"Preliminary figures for agriculture exports for March show a remarkable recovery," the Agriculture Department said. "This recovery will offset much of the effect of the strike."

yield and plants which have crowns and roots that are mushy or partly rotted are dead, advised the WDA. Some plants have roots that are solid but show discoloration in the crown down one to one and one-half inches.

Research Information indicates that where more than 50 per cent of the plant tissue is damaged chances of survival are not good. On fields where we have this situation we can still wait a week or so to see if any growth will start. However, if tiller growth is more than an inch in height after a week or 10 days chances are good the stand will come through.

Caution Farmers

Agents cautioned farmers not to make sudden decisions on old seeding fields. Rather, they suggested waiting to see how the crop develops with increasing warm weather.

They urged farmers not to sell their hay supplies since pastures won't be ready until June. Some valley farmers were able to get on their previously unplowed fields, but most land is still considered too wet.

Cherry Market Order Proposals Advanced

State Grown Fruit Would Come Under Plan; Committee of 18 Administrators Included

The U.S. Department of Agriculture is storing the cherries in the culture has issued a recommendation decision favoring a receive proceeds—after deducting proposed marketing agreement costs—resulting from disposal of the pooled cherries by grown in Michigan, New York, the administrative committee. Wisconsin, Pennsylvania, Ohio. The program also provides for Virginia, West Virginia, and Maryland.

Provisions in the recommendation decision are based on evidence developed at a public hearing in March. The proposed marketing agreement and order had been recommended by the National Cherry Growers Council. The program would authorize regulations limiting the total quantity of red tart cherries to be marketed during a particular year.

Excess cherries would be assigned to a reserve pool. Pooled cherries would be used to supplement supplies in the event of a short crop the following year, or they could be disposed of outside normal commercial markets.

Procedures are established in the proposed program to permit any grower who does not want to participate in the reserve pool to divert—including leaving cherries unharvested—a portion of his crop equal to the restricted percentage rather than delivering all his production to handlers.

Handlers would be compensated for receiving, processing, and marketing and distribution of the cherries. However, it does not provide for paid advertising or promotion. This recommended decision was published in the April 17 Federal Register. Interested persons may submit comments or exceptions until Tuesday to the U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D.C.

If a marketing agreement and order is approved after a review of any comments and exceptions is made, it would be submitted to a vote of the cherry producers and processors.

500 Operators, Wives Interviewed

Active Farm Wife Has Big Voice in Equipment Buying, Says Sociologist

The farm wife who helps with much voice the farm wife will also likely to make the farm decisions though he may discuss them with his wife.

But when you consider a farmer who works off the farm at a town job, road work or custom work, the wife is more likely to have a bigger say in the operation of the home farm.

Farm wives' involvement in management depends on how big the family is, how many children are at home, and the stage of the family life cycle.

Wives who have a number of young children at home are less likely to be involved in the big farm operation and farm credit decisions.

Farm Wife

When the farm wife is the main record-keeper and bill-payer for the farm, she also has more say in land and equipment buying and farm operating decisions.

Wilkening also found out how husbands and wives make household and family decisions. The more educated wife on a big farm with good income is more likely to make independent decisions about food and family entertainment.

The husband who works off the farm often becomes less involved in making household decisions as well as farm decisions. But if the wife works off the farm, she is likely to make the main decisions about home furnishings, maintenance, food and entertainment.

The more social activity the farm wife has the more likely she is to take the initiative at home on her family food and entertainment decisions.

This is a part of a long range study to find out how the farm family is involved in various decisions and duties on the farm and in the home. Wilkening has found that farm wives are involved in many farm operations and that farm children start helping with farm chores at an early age.

Maple Dieback, Blight Attacking State Trees

University Specialists Study Diseases
First Discovered in 1950s in Wisconsin

Farmers fight an eternal battle against diseases and pests that threaten to cut their production, and the farm forest is no exception. Recent disease problems in plant disease specialists.

Maple dieback affects large mature sugar maples, causing the crown of the diseased tree to bear small, sparse and yellow leaves. This disease complex continues to concern foresters throughout the Lake States and Northeastern United States. In contrast, in northeastern Wisconsin maple blight has attacked sugar maples of all sizes and ages causing many to die. Maple blight developed in insects in mid-summer and trees that were defoliated by subsequently suffered further damage by early fall frosts and winter kill. Further study has suggested that root rot fungi may actually cause the death of these trees. Now researchers are pointing an accusing finger at nematodes as possible causes of other new maple diseases. Nematodes stunt, rot and kill roots and rootlets. They also produce galls, off-colored foliage, low plant vigor, and death in some instances. So plant pathologists J. E. Kuntz and Jerry Riffle made a study of the kinds and populations of nematodes in the areas where maples were dying. They found the same three species of nematodes where trees appeared healthy or were diseased but populations were higher where disease was most prevalent. Kuntz and Riffle also found a new species of root-knot nematodes in stands of stunted, off-colored maple.

$629 Million Industry

State Leads Nation In Milk Receipts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Wisconsin's dairymen led the nation in cash receipts from milk sold last year with $629 million, the Department of Agriculture reported today.

New York was runnerup with $467 million, followed by California with $403 million and Minnesota $339 million.

In the nation as a whole, sales of milk resulted in a record gross income of $5,022,000,000 last year. This was three per cent more than dairymen received in 1963 and about two per cent more than the previous record set in 1961.

Before Costs
These figures show what producers received before deducting production costs. In reporting these receipts, the department did not estimate net income, the amount remaining after costs.

The average return for milk and cream last year was $4.18 a hundred pounds compared with $4.12 in 1963. The department said 51 per cent of last year's record high production of nearly 127 billion pounds went into manufactured dairy products. Milk utilization of farms dropped eight per cent in 1964.

Offer Aid To Improve Housing

BY OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department is offering to help farm operators provide adequate housing for seasonal workers.

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, during a recent tour of California, criticized housing conditions available to migrant workers in some points. Organized farm operators contended the criticism was unjustified except in a few cases.

The Agriculture Department has just come out with designs for housing migrant workers. It also is calling attention to a phase of its lending program which permits its Farmers Home Administration to make housing loans to qualified farm owners, associations of farmers, state or political subdivisions, or no-profit organizations for construction and the improvement of housing for farm workers.

"Migrants tend to return to work for growers who provide suitable living quarters," said a department bulletin. "And it is less expensive in the long run to provide good housing than to operate without good help."

Ross Hacker, Brillion, Wins Ayrshire Award

Ross H. Hacker, Brillion, has been presented the 'Constructive Breeder Award' by the Ayrshire Breeders' Association, Brandon, Vt. This was the third award to be won by Hacker.

In order to qualify for this honor, one of the most coveted prizes in dairy cattle circles, it is necessary for the herd to excel in both production and type. Only animals bred by the herd owner are considered. On a strictly twice-a-day milking schedule for 305 days, the cows made an annual production average of 10,187 pounds of milk and 413 pounds of butterfat. The herd has a type classification average score of .859 and 69 per cent of the herd was bred by Hacker.

Plantation Site Needs Mapping

BY COURTNEY SCHWERTZ
Outagamie County 4-H Agent

Starting a successful tree plantation involves more than just spading holes in an old side-hill hayfield.

To get proper spacing, have the planting area mapped out. Show where seedlings will be planted and roadways and firebreaks located. The district forester can advise on how to do this correctly.

The planting area needs close attention before the trees arrive. Cut large shrubs, trees, and brush growing there, or poison them with 2,4-D or 2,4,5-T. This eliminates competition for the water, nutrients and light needed by a tender seedling.

Squeeze Out
Weed, grass and hay roots.

Schwartz
can "squeeze out" tree roots if not controlled. A chemical weed control spray or sod scalping.

Hand planting is made much easier if you have grub hoe, spade and axe in good repair. Plenty of large pails and a good water supply are necessary to keep the seedlings moist while you are in the field.

If you use a machine planter, be sure the planting slits close tightly behind the shoes, or the weed spray may be washed down to the tree roots.

Get the seedlings planted as soon as possible after they arrive. If a cold snap or heavy rain delays planting have a baritone horn solo: Karen Tischbasser, tenor saxophone: Sherry Nehring, Ellen Brandenberg, Diane Kroeger and Cathy Beyer, clarinet quartet: Tom Jolin and Rick Marchini, brass duet: Sherry Nehring and Connie Bahr, piano duet, and Susan Milbauer and Julie Welch, piano duet.

High Vegetable Supply Forecast

Decline in Transient Workers May Cut
Crops in Areas

WASHINGTON (AP)—A government reporter predicted today that consumers will enjoy a plentiful supply of processed vegetables the coming marketing year.

However, in many major producing areas, farmers are predicting a decline in processing crops because of a shortage of transient harvest workers. They blame new restrictions by Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz on importation of foreign labor.

The Agriculture Department report made no reference to the labor situation.

"The prospective total acreage, assuming average yields and expected carryover, would result in an aggregate canned vegetable supply for the 1965-66 marketing season about the same as last year," the department said. "Frozen vegetable supplies would be up moderately."

Tomatoes, it said, are the major exception, with intended plantings down substantially.

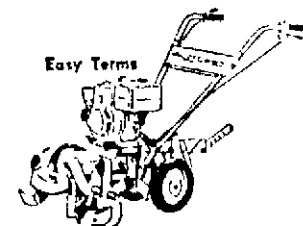

The department reported supplies of fresh vegetables this spring are moderately smaller than last year and the recent five-year average. Prices were averaging higher than a year ago.

Cambodia—China's Puppet

Less than six weeks ago, Prince Sihanouk of Cambodia proposed an international conference to set up policies to guarantee Cambodia's neutrality in the various struggles going on in Southeast Asia. The prince obviously wanted all the world to see that he was really neutral. But he failed to check the suggestion with Peking and now is finding a variety of ways of creeping out from under.

Since the Soviet Union is not happy about the influence of the Red Chinese in various parts of the world, it proposed to Great Britain that the two nations sort of sponsor a Cambodian conference. The British agreed and indicated that invitations would go out to those nations which participated in the 1954 Geneva conference which was supposed to bring peace and neutrality, justice, freedom and a rising standard of living to Southeast Asia. The Red Chinese want no part of such nonsense. Such a conference might make public the various types of influence they are attempting to wield in Southeast Asia. The problem of the war in Viet Nam might come up, the North Vietnamese might agree to a settlement and the door to a Red Chinese take-over of North Viet Nam might be slammed. China has made her displeasure known to Prince Sihanouk.

So the latest Cambodian announcement is that any international conference on Cambodian neutrality would not discuss Viet Nam. And the United States and South Viet Nam would be barred from participation. Such a conference, the Cambodians apparently hope, would approve the strengthening of their ties to Red China and the sort of "neutrality" with strings of which Communists approve. The Cambodians would be "more neutral" than other countries who try not to take sides.

In order to forestall any conference which would include the United States, the Cambodians are also sponsoring a series of demonstrations against U. S. policy in Viet Nam and an article in an American news magazine they claim is "slandorous." At this point it begins to look as if a "neutral" conference, arranged by Great Britain and the Soviet Union, won't even be allowed inside Cambodia's borders.

There is always the possibility of course that Prince Sihanouk may get a few qualms of his own about the increased ties to Peking. Once in a while the puppet strings seem to feel like chains.

Bold Proposal Made To Tighten Up State Corrupt Practice Law

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — Strangely little notice has thus far been given to the introduction into the legislature of a bold proposal on a subject that always before has produced a lively interest in the Wisconsin body politic — that topic covered in the so-called "corrupt practices" act.

How should the state control draft suggested a legal limit of $25,000 in spending for a candidate for governor and senator. The substitute measure, bearing the names of the same men, suggests $225,000 as a permissible expenditure for aspirants to those places, with corresponding adjustments for other public office seekers. One may guess that some of the party politicians made their wishes for truly "realistic" limits known when the first bill draft was made public.

MEANING

But the most significant provision of the new bill would prohibit any disbursement by any person or organization without the knowledge and consent of the candidate desired to be benefitted by such expenditure, and requiring that candidate to report such expenditures on his behalf in his own personal expense accounting and to include them in his own aggregate spending limit.

That provision would strike at one of the most ambiguous of the facts about the ostensible controls upon campaign spending.

Wisconsin voters may well assume on the basis of present statute law that the expenditures of a candidate for governor or other office are limited. But case law has long since modified statute law to the extent that so-called voluntary committees can spend, without limit, on behalf of a candidate in spite of the apparent controls upon his use of money. If the pending bill serves no other purpose — and it is not likely to be enacted according to present appearances — it will serve a purpose in illuminating one of the gray zones of Wisconsin politics.

For anybody who has constructed literally the present legal limit of $10,000 upon the expenditures of a candidate for governor or senator, the proposed figure of $225,000 may appear extravagant.

Yet it is doubtful that any sophisticated politician, in either Wisconsin party, would willingly undertake a campaign for election to those offices with a budget substantially below that figure. Whatever its fate, therefore, the expenditure revision bill may again serve a useful cause in calling attention to the realities of contemporary politics and campaigning.

Wyngaard

the influencing of elections, and more particularly, what limits should the state impose on the use of money by candidates and political parties to influence the outcome of popular voting?

Five Democratic assemblymen, apparently led by Frederick Kessler of Milwaukee County and Vincent Mathews of Waukesha, two of the more articulate members of the Democratic majority in the lower house, are the authors of a bill that would drastically modify the laws on that sensitive subject.

There are several interesting and suggestive facts surrounding the presentation of the bill. In the first place, the measure is what would ordinarily be called a "Democratic" bill in the parlance of the news services, because its authorship is exclusively Democratic. But its authorship does not include any of the leading men of the Democratic Assembly majority, who have also been quite silent about it since its appearance about six weeks ago.

Moreover, the bill strikes at a problem that has had the earnest and anxious interest of the "liberal" organs over the years. But those critics of the political system have apparently not noticed the introduction of the bold and provocative proposal.

Finally, the original draft of the bill which purported to set new limits for the amounts of money candidates could expend in their appeals to the electorate was abruptly abandoned and replaced with a substitute that suggests generously higher aggregate sums. For example, the original

Building Inspector Offers His Views on Little Chute School

Editor, Post-Crescent:

A message to the taxpayers, freeholders and voters of the village of Little Chute and its joint school district No. 1.

In recent weeks, several articles have appeared in the Peoples Forum on the pros and cons pertaining to the contemplated construction of a new high school. I wish to hereby personally compliment Mr. and Mrs. Kaminski, Mrs. Vander Wist and Mrs. Jansen on the articles they submitted and their sincerity in placing their signatures beneath them.

In my estimation, the criticism of the project by others, who do not have the backbone to place their signatures in the column, along with their poorly informed ravings and rantings, should definitely be ignored, as they remind me much of the old story about the ostrich, who buries only his head in the sand, and is silly enough himself to believe that he is not visible.

In the past year or more, I have discussed the school problem, taxes, site, purpose, end results etc. with many local persons, who in my way of thinking, have a wee bit more than average intelligence. I have not found among them a single dissenter, while it is true some interesting questions and answers were exchanged.

Next, I would like to extend my personal thanks to the school board members and building site committee for the marvelous undertaking on their own time to provide at the meetings the desired information relative to options obtained (all reasonable) method of selecting sites and offering an honest opinion as to the merits of each site. Evidently, the dissenters did not take the time to attend these meetings — but for them, now that the ship has left the dock it is mighty hard to get aboard. To this group, treasurer, and Eunice Forster, publicity director. Mrs. Charles Harvey, Kaukauna, and Mrs. Charles Christensen, Appleton, were initiated into the George D. Eggleston Women's Relief Corps, auxiliary to the Grand Army of the Republic.

10 YEARS AGO

Friday, May 6, 1955.

Harold Adams was named chairman of the 1955 Community Fund drive at Appleton. His assistants were Harwood Osborn, vice chairman, and Forrest Muck, chairman of the badge and admissions committee. Adams succeeds Victor I. Minahan.

Mrs. G. A. Behnke, Kaukauna, was elected first vice president of the Wisconsin State Medical Society Auxiliary. Representing Outagamie County auxiliary at the state meeting in Milwaukee were Mrs. Behnke, Mrs. L. B. McBain and Mrs. W. S. Giffin. Miss Betty Van Rossum, route 3, Kaukauna, was chosen by the American Legion Auxiliary to represent Wrightstown at Badger Girls State.

again my thanks, for a job well done.

For the information of the dissenters, possibly I, as the State Building Inspector for this area, can fill in some of the information they lack.

1. The Kimberly school district has this week purchased an eight acre plot for a new elementary school required in the near future — along with having under construction, at its Combined Locks Herman Jansen School, an eight classroom addition. This means that shortly following the completion of these two buildings (even without the annexation of Little Chute) it will require an additional junior high school.

2. Kaukauna having just recently completed a two million dollar high school addition and an elementary school remodeling program, has also purchased a new school site and has already engaged an architect to draft plans for same (a necessity at present without the attachment of Little Chute).

3. Freedom, one of nine presently remaining Union Free High School Districts in the State of Wisconsin, is

We're Not Lazy Brushers; We're Just Too Busy

Dr. Patrick D. Tonto, director of research in the Loyola University School of Dentistry, is probably right in saying that few Americans "meet even the minimum standards for good dental hygiene." But surely he didn't mean it literally when he characterized the United States as "a nation of lazy tooth-brushers."

We don't miss brushing—or brush amiss—because we are lazy. Quite the contrary. We do it because we are industrious and in too big a hurry to stand in front of the bathroom mirror twice a day and watch ourselves foam at the mouth for two or three minutes—presently constructing a new elementary school so that the present elementary and high school building will in the future be used for Jr. High and High School purposes only. Also, for the record, at the present time there is a bill awaiting passage (a must) in the Wisconsin Legislature, prior to adjournment in July, ordering dissolution of all Union Free High School Districts.

4. With no great change expected in the percentage proportion of grade school enrollment in the Village of Little Chute between parochial and public school, and only ninety to one hundred high school students attending high school at either Kaukauna or Kimberly, would it not be silly to donate to either Kaukauna or Kimberly the entire school tax assessment for the present district, simply to continue sending out only ninety high school students and their taking over of our new public kindergarten and elementary school with requirements for approximately three hundred students, when the taxes assessed would normally cover six hundred high school and sixteen hundred kindergarten and elementary students? What a soft touch, we the taxpayers of the Village of Little Chute must be to permit such a situation, where another community would build their schools at our expense.

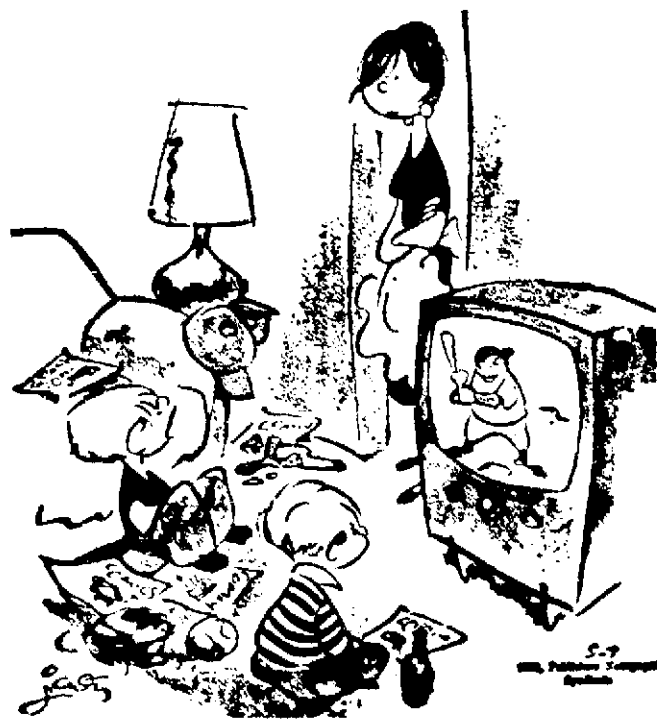

Possibly, it may cost us a few dollars more annually to maintain our own school within the district, but again I say, we will not have lost our identity or the community togetherness and cooperation that we have always enjoyed — the same cooperation that our present neighbors from Kaukauna and Kimberly envy. Thanks a million to those of you who have given of your time to read this article and please consider the merits of a community project being successful.

Not Using Seat Belts Ought to Be a Crime

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

Speaking of auto fatalities, as I was the other day, reminded me of a recent circuit court decision in Sheboygan, Wis., in which a jury was assessing damages against a motorist involved in a collision.

The jury decided that the failure of the other motorist to use seat belts was a form of "contributory negligence," and around our own neighborhood — but most traffic deaths (three out of four) occur within 25 miles of home. And more than half the accidents causing injury or death are at speeds under 40 miles an hour.

Not using the belts should be considered as much a matter of contributory negligence in an accident as defective headlights, worn-out brakes, or failure to signal. If damages are consistently reduced on this basis, the public will be quick to wear them as automatically as we switch on the ignition.

I say this out of no sense of superiority, for I am as lazy and thoughtless as the next man in this vital matter. Indeed, most of the time I am ashamed into using the belts by the children, who are quite conscious of their value. When driving alone, I often neglect to put them on, especially "just" to scoot across town.

The New York Times reports that the major auto manufacturers are planning the installation of rear seat belts, as well as standard equipment for the 1966 models, with Chrysler already installing them on the 1965 models. But installing them and getting people to use them are sedans of a different color.

One manufacturer in Trenton, according to the Times, attaches an electronic device to the belt, so that he car's ignition will not work unless the belt is locked in place. But what most of us need is an electronic device in the brain that lights up "Danger" when we crawl behind the wheel of a car. At present, all that seems to light up is "Com-bat."

was sufficient cause to reduce the amount of damages by 10 per cent.

This strikes me as an extraordinarily sensible attitude. Not to have seat belts ought to be a crime, and not to use them is the height of folly. Yet, according to a survey by the Society of Automotive Engineers, while the installation of belts keeps increasing, they are used less than half the time on ordinary short trips.

Here, again, our basic irrationality displays itself. The time most of us strap on our seat belts is when embarking on a long trip on expressways. But this is precisely where they are least needed, for the accident rate on the super-highways is the lowest of anywhere.

We are most disinclined to use seat belts on brief trips

Plea Made for Correct Census

100 YEARS AGO

Quoted from the Appleton Crescent for May 6, 1865.

The State Census is to be taken by Town Clerks. Inasmuch as nearly the entire arms-bearing population, of this and other counties in North Eastern Wisconsin, is now in the Army, we desire to impress upon Town Clerks the necessity of using every effort to make the enumeration as perfect as possible.

Let every citizen furnish all the information in his possession or the census will be defective and the towns will not be credited with their real population.

It is not difficult to obtain the name of every man who has gone to the Army from any town in the county. And the names of those who have fallen are also known. No man loses his residence by being in the Army, but that in mind.

Upon this census a new apportionment of members of the State Senate and Assembly will be made next winter, and the County Supervisor districts are to be re-arranged this summer or fall.

Give us a correct enumeration. Take extra pains to get a good census.

A new club, Alpha Gamma Kappa, was organized in St. Mary parish in Appleton for the purpose of promoting social, cultural and athletic activities. Elected officers were Mary Schaefer, president; Margaret Albrecht, vice president; Eileen Shinnars, secretary; Marian Forster,

Educators Surprise At Finance Hearing

Appear in Support of Knowles' Proposed Taxation Measures

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON — Something new has been added to the tangled skein of statehouse politics surrounding the issues of state spending and taxation.

For the first time within memory, spokesmen for the educational programs which represent the giant's share of the state's rapidly rising state budget turned up Thursday to endorse specific tax proposals designed to raise enough money to support them.

To the obvious discomfiture of some Democratic legislative politics, the educational spokesmen including two prominent Democrats testified for the record in support of the taxation ideas of Republican Gov. Warren P. Knowles which have been denounced by Democratic assemblymen who have flatly declared their intention to junk them.

Obvious Surprise

There was obvious surprise in a hearing room at the capitol Thursday when a "rump" minority of Republican members of the legislative finance committee went through with a scheduled hearing on the governor's revenue plan which the Democrats had pointedly boycotted, and heard as first witnesses agents sent to the meeting by the University of Wisconsin board of regents, the board of regents of state colleges, the Coordinating Committee for High Education, the Wisconsin Association of School Boards and the Wisconsin Education Association.

Those witnesses represent the "establishment" in Wisconsin education, in the state capitol political definition.

Their programs represent also more than half of the state's record-high budget. Often in the past they have made earnest pleas for money. Never in the memory of senior politicians have they endorsed specific ways of raising money, as Henry Weinlick of the WEA acknowledged in a preface to his speech.

Pointed References

The witnesses also made pointed references to the breadth of their constituencies. Weinlick noted that his organization counts 37,000 dues-paying teachers and administrators in the local schools. George Tipler of the School Boards Association remarked in passing that he spoke for 4,000 to 5,000 local citizens entrusted with the responsibility of running the local schools. Such figures are suggestive in a legislative hearing where politicians are aware of the close division in the political strength of the Wisconsin political parties.

But the dramatic surprise of the occasion was provided when Arthur DeBardeleben, chairman of the University of Wisconsin board of regents and a dues-paying Democrat who owes his appointment to a former Democratic governor, appeared to say that the Knowles combination tax bill is a "reasonable one."

Because the Republican administration bill contains more emphasis upon sales taxation than income taxation, the Democrats have denounced it as "Reactionary" and "regressive" and have pledged to defeat it on the Assembly floor.

Too Worried

DeBardeleben's anxious plea on behalf of the university was interpreted to mean that the campus administration is too worried about its budget outlook to be willing to dispute tax methods. The point was underlined when Charles Dahl of Viroqua, a Democratic member of the board of regents which runs the system of small state universities, seconded DeBardeleben's position.

A footnote to the changing attitude of the traditional tax policy quarrel was provided when the only League of Women Voters witness at the tax bill hearing declared its support for

Education in Foreign Lands Is IPC Topic

Five Students Air Differences in U. S. Foreign Methods

Five Institute of Paper Chemistry foreign students discussed education in their countries today at a session of the Institute's annual Executives Conference.

Members of the panel were Simon M. Segelman of Sweden, Matti A. Sten of Finland, Ernesto Madsen of Chile and Hanuman P. Didwania and Dr. Hardev S. Dugal, both from Indiana.

All are special or regular students at the Institute except Dugal who is postdoctoral research fellow.

The panel members revealed that in some countries students have to stop their formal education at points in the grade school level if they don't meet set standards, and that higher education is financed by the government with the student generally paying only room, board and incidental fees.

A problem in Chile, Madsen explained, is that many of the science books are written in other languages.

Test, Presentations

To reach advanced degrees, the panel agreed, students in most countries must face tests, report in a thesis, and defend the thesis before competent professors.

Sten said students in Finland defend their thesis with friends and relatives present to see how the student handles the questions asked by the professors.

Commenting on customs, Didwania said Indian students are taught a respect for elders and teachers, and when a teacher enters a class, the class rises and remains standing until receiving a nod from the teacher. Nobody smokes before teachers or elders in the class or outside he said, and no girl is normally found walking hand in hand with a boy on a college campus. Much less is there any "dating."

According to Didwania, 1,700 institutions of higher learning in essential service financing "through a balanced fiscal program which includes both an income and a general sales tax with exemptions," as the Republican governor proposed. During many past years the league resisted sales taxation with diligent vigor.

Mike Alberg Has Kidney Transplant

WITTENBERG — After five hours of delicate surgery Thursday night at the University of Minnesota Hospital, Minneapolis, Mike Alberg has a new kidney.

The 12-year-old lad waited almost eight months, since October, for the operation in which his ailing kidney was replaced.

Early reports on the operation were optimistic. The kidney began functioning immediately, the hospital reported. The first 48 hours after the operation are considered the critical period.

For the past several months an artificial kidney kept the boy alive.

His plight attracted widespread attention and the Lions Club here organized a fund to help defray costs of the operation which are expected to exceed $25,000.

Welfare Offices Moved to New Annex Quarters

The Outagamie County Welfare Department Thursday opened its new suite of offices in the county courthouse annex and was inspected by the county's committee.

The 20 recently designed offices and administrative spaces were completed early this week and the welfare department moved Wednesday. The department formerly occupied space in the courthouse basement.

Director Alfred Eggert said the offices were ideal and offered adequate space for the department staff. The offices occupy an entire wing on the annex's second floor.

Committeemen discussed re-vamping the vacated welfare department space for use by the county highway and agriculture departments. Extensive remodeling is planned before the offices are moved, however.

India enroll about 2 per cent of the population in the age group from 17 to 22 years of age.

Dugal said "students in this country should feel very lucky in having the best facilities and so should make the best use of this opportunity."

Moderator for the foreign student panel was Dr. Arild Miller, assistant dean and director of admissions at the Institute.

What's the boy selling? If you can unscramble his words you may become the winner of (A) a local prize consisting of a packet of five of the tiniest "working" tools you have ever seen and (B) a tinsmith's shears, plier, a penknife that opens and closes and a screw driver.

Entries winning these local prizes will qualify for consideration with local winners from all other cities where this column is published when the judges select the five entries that are the neatest, most original of all. These will win the "Great Books for Children." Included will be these famous stories:

"Treasure Island," "Tom Sawyer," "Arabian Nights," "Heidi," "Alice in Wonderland," "Andersen's Fairy Tales," "Black Beauty," "Robin Hood," "King Arthur," "Robinson Crusoe," "Tales from Shakespeare" and, in the 12th book, "Aesop's Fables" and "Pinocchio."

After unscrambling the four things the boy is selling, clip the picture out, paste it on paper or a postal card, print the deciphered words beneath it, along with your name, age, address and the name of your school, then decorate your entry in any neat, original way. Mail it to Cappy Dick's Midweek Contest at the Post-Crescent before midnight Friday.

Morgenthau Raps U. S. Policies as Outmoded great deal of difference and De Gaulle is right.

"De Gaulle rightfully says that the U. S. cannot risk its existence on defending France with nuclear power, because the U. S. pledge was made for the Alliance when the communist world didn't have a great nuclear power. For the U. S. to honor its pledge today," Morgenthau said, "would be to risk its existence."

"Here is the first great issue American foreign policy must face," he said. "We must think through the alliance structure in a nuclear age. How can alliances exist with the doubts caused by the existence of nuclear power?"

Morgenthau also charged that the monolithic today world nuclear weaponry "has made obsolete the use of force as a tool of foreign policy" because he said within 20 years several other nations will have become nuclear powers.

When this happens, he said, "the mechanism of nuclear deterrence will have disappeared in the Dominican Republic."

Different Policies

"We are negligent in not applying different policies to different types of communisms. By treating them all alike," he said, "we are pushing these nations together again which is encouraging the monolithic power that we fear."

"As a result," Morgenthau charged, the Johnson Southeast Asian policy "is uniting Hanoi, Peiping and Moscow."

Despite the criticism of U.S. involvement in Viet Nam, Morgenthau lauded President Johnson for American action taken in the Dominican Republic.

"In underdeveloped nations," he said, "we are confronted with a real dilemma. Radical changes and reforms are needed by the people and then a revolution occurs. And when a revolution occurs, the threat is always present that the only disciplined group in the nation is the one made up of communists."

Cuban Revolution

"This happened in the Cuban revolution," Morgenthau said, "and for this reason we have intervened in the Dominican Republic where an organized and communist element took over a disorganized revolution. So our country did just exactly what it had to do."

Morgenthau called for a "renaissance of American foreign policy" and an abandonment of the post-World War II system of alliances.

Bomb Explodes in Front of Consulate

"President De Gaulle of France," he said, "has shown with brutal frankness that fatal flaw of the Atlantic Alliance (NATO). With brutal frankness he has asked us what is the difference between an alliance of a nuclear and non-nuclear power and the alliance of two nuclear powers. There is a damage to the building."

Home and Abroad

"And," Morgenthau concluded, "there is, in our period of history, a relationship of what we do at home with our interests abroad."

"What we do economically at home affects how we do economically abroad, the same as what we do with the problems of automation and of race. Our answers to these problems have an effect on the uncommitted one-third of the world."

"Only if we are capable of recovering some of the innovation which has long been part of the American character and project it onto the international scene," he said, "will we ever come into sight of overcoming our foreign policy problems of today."

— A bomb exploded Thursday night in the gas tank of a station wagon parked in front of the U.S. Consulate in Guayaquil, Ecuador (A).

Several consular automobiles were burned, but no one was injured and there was no major damage to the building.

Coast Guard to Widen Search for Wealthy Bride of California Judge

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — The Coast Guard planned to widen its search today for Elleen Jeffers Yager, wealthy bride of a Los Angeles judge. She is believed to have fallen overboard Thursday from the couple's chartered honeymoon yacht.

Superior Court Judge Thomas C. Yager, 47, said his wife vanished while he was below deck.

"It was my recollection," he said, "that she was behind the wheel."

He called her disappearance "the most tragic thing that has ever happened to me."

Mrs. Yager, 61, heiress to a railroad fortune, married the jurist last Monday in the private chapel of James Francis Cardinal McIntyre, Catholic archbishop of Los Angeles. Former Gov. Goodwin J. Knight was best man.

First Marriage

It was the first marriage for each.

The couple was returning from Santa Catalina Island aboard the yacht "Care Free" when Mrs. Yager presumably fell overboard. The 36-foot cabin cruiser, headed for Newport Beach, was about midway in the 32-mile channel at the time.

Yager said he searched the area for an hour — circling repeatedly — and tried unsuccessfully to use the boat's radio. It wouldn't work.

Finally he returned to the mainland for help.

He told officials he didn't think his wife was wearing a life jacket.

Massive Search

A massive air and sea search was conducted until tonight.

Two cutters, two helicopters and two amphibian planes found nothing. Additional planes were assigned to today's expanded hunt, the Coast Guard said.

Mrs. Yager, the adopted daughter of the late William M. Jeffers, retired president of the Union Pacific Railroad, was his chief beneficiary when he died in 1963.

She made her home in a private cottage on the grounds of the fashionable Huntington-Sheraton Hotel in Pasadena.

The Yagers had planned a lengthy honeymoon that was to include a trip to Hawaii and a visit to the East Coast.

The judge's clerk, Frances Church, said Yager had been an amateur sailor for about two years. But Joe Scovill, harbor master at Avalon, on Catalina Island, said he talked to the jurist Wednesday and "it was apparent he didn't know much of anything about a boat, and shouldn't have been on one."

Boy Drowns In Flooded Basement

PRAIRIE DU CHIEN (AP) — Wisconsin's flood toll climbed to four Thursday as a 3-year-old boy drowned in floodwaters in his family's basement.

The family had returned to the home only a few hours earlier to begin cleaning in the wake of the record Mississippi River floods.

The body of Mark Harris, 3, was found by a policeman and a neighbor at the base of a coal chute in the basement, still flooded by four feet of water.

He had been discovered missing by his mother, Mrs. Monroe Harris, after she put the boy and four other children to bed upstairs for an afternoon nap.

The Harris family was one of only about 30 able so far to move back into mud-caked homes at Prairie du Chien. Red Cross workers estimated about 320 families were still homeless, although many were wading or boating to their houses to start salvage operations.

"There is this terrific feeling inside them to get home," said Red Cross disaster relief specialist Mrs. Nona Wiman. But usually high Thursday and to she added, "Cleanup is going heart-breakingly slow."

about sundown with a heavy mortar barrage. Air strikes were ordered immediately and a militia company was sent to relieve the besieged outpost. This company was cut off and pinned down by the Viet Cong, however, and suffered heavy casualties.

Several hours later the Viet Cong began an infantry attack on the town. Ammunition began to run low and the situation for the defenders was critical.

The defenders held out, however, and the Viet Cong eventually broke off contact.

An hour later they made a mortar attack on a helicopter strip at Ca Mau, the nearby provincial capital, but all the helicopters took off without getting hit.

Government Losses

Government losses at Hai Yen were 43 killed, 17 wounded and 30 missing. Most of the casualties were "sea swallow" soldiers, the name given to a militia army of more than 2,000 Catholics organized by the Rev. Nguyen Lac Hoa, a Chinese refugee. Three civilians were killed and seven wounded.

Ten U.S. military advisers and two U.S. civilian employees of the U.S. aid mission were in the town, but none was reported injured.

Communist activity throughout the delta was reported usually high Thursday and to she added, "Cleanup is going heart-breakingly slow."

treated at Mercy Hospital. Nearly 30 of those treated were in serious condition.

The storm hit Norwood, a town of about 1,000 persons, some 38 miles southwest of Minneapolis. After demolishing about 15 residences and between 30 and 40 farm buildings, the twister moved northeast, striking with devastating force at the exclusive sections of Shorewood-Excelsior. About a dozen homes were damaged and several persons injured.

Then it circled around Lake Minnetonka's west side and moved over the lake to the east side. Dozens of lakeside cabins and residences were smashed and scores of residents were injured.

The tornado then traveled northeastward hitting Fridley, Spring Lake Park and Mounds View before it left the area.

The Minneapolis Weather Bureau had alerted Twin Cities residents around 6:30 p.m.

Minutes later, a heavy rain and hail hit.

A series of twisters hit the northeastern portion of the state Wednesday, and another series struck the southeastern portion of the state. About 20 persons were injured, but property damage was heavy.

Tornadoes also skipped across parts of Oklahoma, striking in small towns and rural areas. One woman suffered injuries in a twister which hit Oakwood, about 60 miles southwest of Oklahoma City. Other tornadoes were reported in rural areas near Mangum, Seiling and Hollis and at Ron, near Hollis. Several homes and farm buildings were damaged.

Thunderstorms continued during the night in Oklahoma and Kansas. With gusts of more than 80 m.p.h. were reported at Wichita, Kan. Showers fell from the eastern Great Lakes to the central Appalachians.

In western sections, heavy snow — up to 15 inches — blanketed the Bozeman area of south-central Montana. Strong winds caused drifting of snow on Lost Trail and Chief Joseph passes in western Montana. Snow fell in the northern and central Rockies and freezing weather was reported in areas in Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, Nevada, Utah and Idaho.

Fairly mild weather prevailed in the eastern half of the nation.

Satellite TV Led Police to Find Culprit

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The space-age police technique of satellite television led to the arrest of an urbane Canadian who has been hunted all over the world since the spectacular burglary of a Montreal bank four years ago.

The Canadian, Georges Lemay, 39, was surprised when 11 federal and local police stopped him just as he boarded his fancy, 43-foot yawl in the huge Bahia Mar Marina in Fort Lauderdale Thursday.

"I very seldom make mistakes," he told Police Capt. Bob Smith. "How did you people catch me?"

Told that a boat repairman recognized a mug shot broadcast displayed by a Royal Canadian Mounted Police inspector on the inaugural Early Bird satellite television program, Lemay was incredulous.

"Is that your word of honor," he asked Smith.

Assured it happened that way, Lemay said "Well, isn't that something. It took a satellite to catch me."

Kelly said he wanted to forget the incident and go home, but police directed him to appear today when they bring Miss Miranda into court on a charge of negligent use of a deadly weapon.

Fame Has Drawbacks, Julie Andrews Admits

'Nice But Bewildering, Frightening,' Says Actress-Singer in Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — How "Fair Lady," in which Miss Andrews had starred for 3 1/2 years movie world practically at your feet?

"Very nice," said Julie Andrews, "but slightly bewildering. And a little frightening."

The temperature outside the sound stage was in the 80s. The lovely Londoner, in polka-dot slacks and white shirt, looked cool and distractingly beautiful.

Before her three pictures were released, she explained, "I had more freedom. I can't go anywhere now without being recognized."

Success gives her the feeling that every new project must be better than the one before.

"Mary Poppins," her first picture, in which she played the high-flying, vocally magnificent governess, is the hottest film in Disney Studio history. Studio accountants gleefully predict a worldwide gross of $67 million.

Her critics hail Miss Andrews as "an incomparable artist." "The greatest musical talent show business has produced in 25 years." In little more than a year her price per picture has risen from $150,000 to $700,000. What next for the international star?

After the spectacularly beautiful "Sound of Music" and "The Americanization of Emily," she wants roles "as varied as possible."

Different Role

Her present about-face is as a missionary's wife of the early 1800s in an adaptation of James Michener's "Hawaii."

Then comedy, "The Public Eye," in London next February, followed by biography, "The Gertrude Lawrence Story," in Hollywood the following June.

She shares a rented Beverly Hills home with daughter Emma, 2 1/2, a housekeeper, a nurse and a toy white poodle. She and husband Tony Walton, a set and costume designer, run up "enormous" long-distance phone bills. His current film assignment is in London.

Miss Andrews said the "supposed antagonism" between her and producer Jack Warner "has been blown up beyond all proportion." He chose Audrey Hepburn for the film of "My

'J.B.' Opens Tonight at St. Norbert

WEST DE PERE — Capping the area's current theater season this weekend in its Hall of Fine Arts will be the St. Norbert College production of Archibald MacLeish's 1959 Pulitzer Prize winning drama, "J.B."

The production marks the resuming of drama-directing chores for Lee Dudek, associate professor of speech, recently returned to St. Norbert following completion of requirements for his doctoral degree in speech and theater at Northwestern University. Previous presentations staged by the speech department chairman include Shaw's "Pygmalion", Moliere's "School for Wives", and Henry James' "The Heir-ess."

In unprecedented relaxation of St. Norbert Abbey rules, two Norbertine brothers appear in key roles. Frater Ferdinand Gildea plays the role of Nickles, popcorn vendor turned Satan, and Frater David Lawlor appears as an atheistic psychiatrist.

Important Work

Besides winning the Pulitzer Prize, "J.B.", which was five years in the writing, ran for 200 performances on Broadway and for another three years in triumphant national tours. The theme is a modern re-enactment of the biblical Job dramatized in terms of life today.

Brooks Atkinson of the N.Y. Times called it "one of the memorable works of our century." Other members of the elite Drama Critics' Circle were unanimous in their praise, all of them lavishing superlatives on the work.

Already two-time winner of the Pulitzer Prize for Poetry in 1932 and 1953, and nationally acclaimed for his radio and television plays, MacLeish in 1957 sought for a metaphor to express the brutalities and suffering of our generation. He selected the life of Job, prototype of all sufferers, to typify his motif.

Final Day of IPC Executives' Conference

'Materials, Configuration, Fastenings' Of Pulp, Paper Structure Is Panel Topic

Seven Institute of Paper Chemistry scientists discussed "raw materials, configuration, and fastenings" of various structures in the science of the pulp and paper industry at this morning's session of The Institute's annual Executives' Conference.

They said the three phenomena are common to such different things as containers and individual living cells.

The scientists were James W. Gander, container section; Keith W. Hardacker, physics section; Carroll L. Garey, physical chemistry section; Heribert Meyer, technology section; Edgar E. Dickey, dean of students; Elwood O. Dillingham, biology section; and Dean W. Einspahr, biology section.

Gander established the "raw materials, configuration, and fastenings" theme in the session entitled "Differing Points of View and Varying Scales of Observation."

Container Engineer
He viewed "structure" from the standpoint of a container engineer. He said a shipping container illustrates the three elements of structure which are a base material, a geometrical configuration, and the fastening together of parts.

Hardacker, discussing the structure of a paper sheet, said that if physicists are ever to be able to express the strength of paper in terms of raw materials, configuration, and bonds between fibers, they must be able to measure each of them individually and must develop a mathematical expression which properly interrelates them.

The Institute, he said, is presently measuring the tensile strength of individual fibers, and have found the tensile strength to be on the same order of magnitude as steel.

Hardacker said the structure of a sheet is random, so the remaining problem is development of capability for measuring the strength of the bonds between fibers. Progress towards this is being made.

Discussing surface coatings,

Garey said their structure, especially of pigment coating, is of great significance because the layer of coating controls the appearance, absorption, printability, and other properties of the sheet.

Structure, Effectiveness
Structure and effectiveness of coatings are indirectly related to the structure and contour of the base on which it is placed. Placed on paper, he explained, the coating surface is variable due to irregularity of surface and large voids in the paper sheet.

The result is a structure that varies from point to point in thickness, levelness, and positional arrangements of particles. Consequently, too much coating is presently required to give the smoothness or uniformity of sheet surface desired from an ideal coating.

Meyer, discussing papermaking, said the papermaker deals with a very complex process. Fibers are deposited on top of a previously formed mat of fibers with very nearly the same overall distribution as in the fiber-water suspension. The degree of uniformity of fiber dispersion thus determines the structural quality of the finished paper.

Quality control in this sense, he said, requires a minute control of the flow, which ordinarily is possible only when the flow is also predictable.

Fibrous suspensions do not flow the basic physical and chemical mechanisms responsible for change and evolution in the living cell.

He added there is a growing conviction among molecular biologists that man will, within the lifetime of the present generation, achieve the capability of shaping his own genetic structure and the genetic structure of the plants and animals in his domain.

Forest Genetics
Einspahr discussed the effect of environment on dividing cells, each of which carries the same genetic code. Institute geneticists, he said, have isolated a cambium cell "that normally would divide and produce a wood fiber," and grew it in different environments. A different result occurred in each environment. In one case, undifferentiated fiber was produced, in another environment, the cells formed chlorophyll.

After showing slides of some of the results, Einspahr said, "Treat these undifferentiated cells with other chemicals and roots are formed. Still other chemicals will cause the cells to differentiate into shoots."

He traced cell division from the initial embryo, through the seed, and said that after the seed germinates and a seedling develops, there are three principal zones of cell division that produce the essential structures, namely, the roots, the stem, and the crown of the tree.

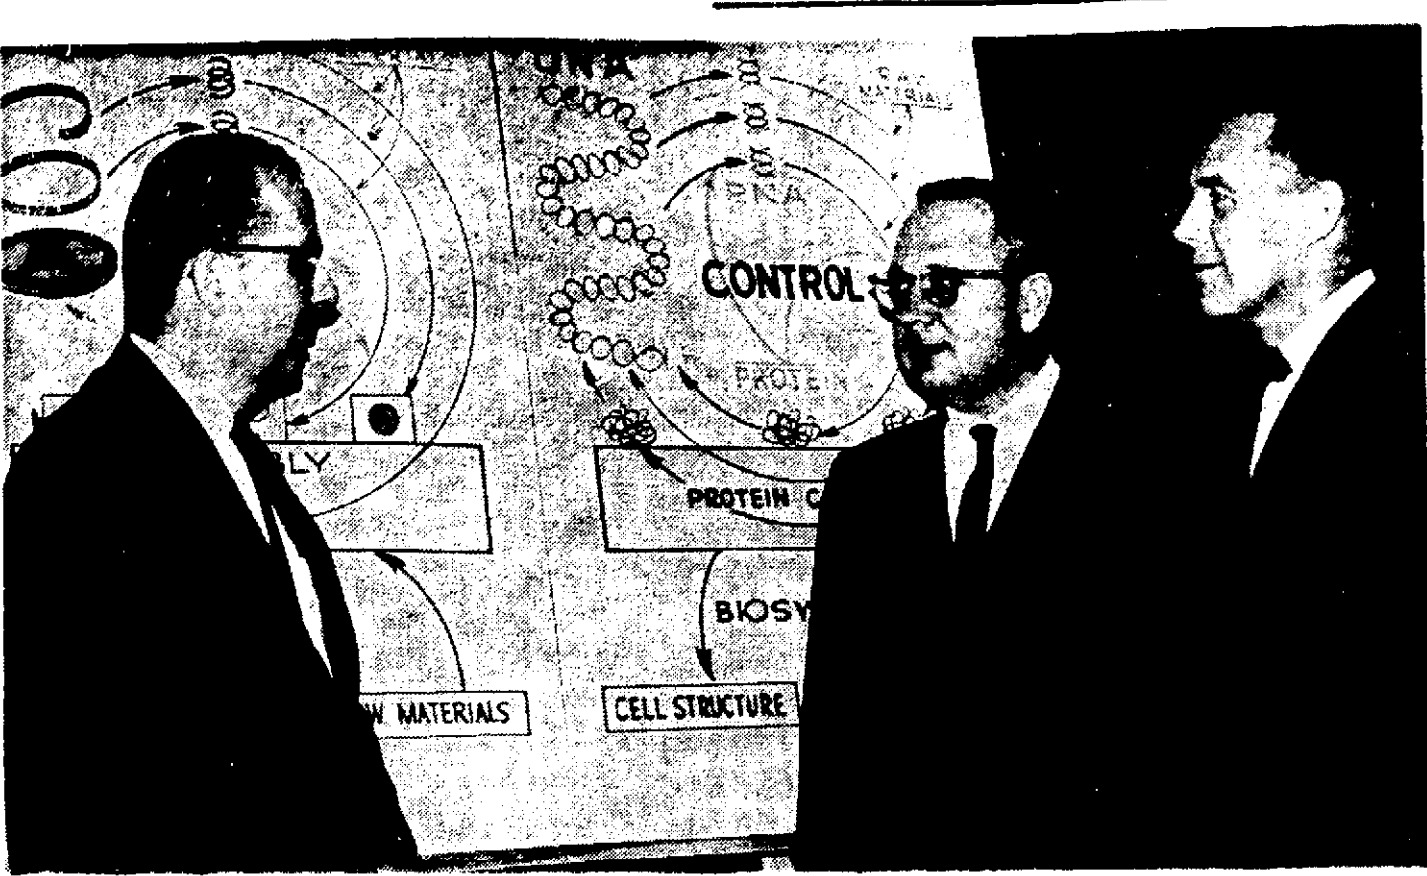

After discussing cell division in the cambial area of a tree into bark and other parts of the tree, he pointed out the importance again of environment saying "I would like to remind you that each of these cells contain the same genetic code as the original single cell."

Biochemical Reactions
Although the biochemical reactions involved in their formation are largely unknown, he pointed out, knowledge of the structure of cellulose contributes to an understanding of the forces which hold the microfibrils together.

Dickey said although the organic chemist has developed considerable knowledge of the composition of wood and paper, much more information is needed to correlate chemical composition with physical properties.

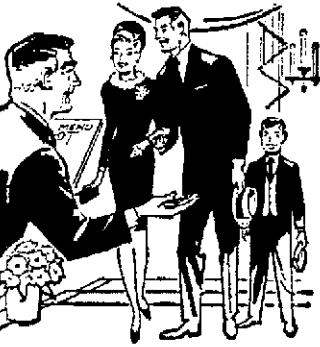

Dillingham discussed the contribution of molecular biology to current knowledge of the basic mechanisms controlling the biosynthesis of cell structure. In his discussion, he showed how the delicately-poised steady state system of the living cell very closely resembles certain aspects of a highly automated industry, such as the automobile industry.

The central concern of modern genetics, Dillingham said, is the basic physical and chemical

VA Office Explains Reimbursement Rules On Burial Expenses

The Veterans Administration said today that reimbursement for burial expenses of an eligible deceased veteran may be claimed any time within two years after the veteran's permanent burial or cremation.

J. P. Cullen, manager of the Milwaukee regional office, said that reimbursement not to exceed $250 will be paid toward burial expenses of wartime veterans or of peacetime veterans who were receiving service-connected disability compensation from the VA at the time of their death or who had been retired for disabilities incurred in the line of duty.

Cullen said the undertaker should claim the reimbursement if he has not been paid, or the party who paid the undertaker may claim the reimbursement.
